Miss Carrie Marek In Address Presents Slovakian Facts

Miss Carrie Marek, in native costume of several years ago, told members of the Business and Professional Women's Club interesting facts about Czecho Slovakia in their meeting held at the club rooms Tuesday evening. Miss Marak's mother came from Csecho Slovakia to this country, therefore she was able to give first hand information concerning customs and manners of the people of that small republic. Her dress was of solid red material with a white blouse underneath the tight-fitting black velvet basque laced down the front. Miss Marek exhibited shawls and head pieces that have been in her family and in the families of her friends for scores of years. One of them was a large square of paisley which her grandmother owned before she was married.

Miss Marek was introduced by Miss Delphya Scott, who was master of the program. Mrs. Gladys Watson provided over the business session, at which time the revised constitution and by-laws were read by Mrs. Meta McCown and were adopted by the club. A meeting of District 3 of the state organization of B. and P. W. Clubs is to be held in Waco on April 26 and 27, and the members were urged to plan to attend this meeting. Covers for the year books were given to the members by Mrs. Watson. They were handpainted by Miss Mollie Moore with a chrysanthemum design, the flower of the club.

Miss Bess Marek, chairman of the refreshment committee, and her assistant, Miss Iva Wilson, served sandwiches, cookies, and hot tea. Following this the members were directed in Valentine games and were given fortunes.

Rug School Held Tuesday Attended By Fifty Women

Approximately fifty women attended the Home Demonstration rug school conducted by Miss Sadie Hartfield, District Home Demonstration Agent and Minnie Bartholomew, County Home Demonstration Agent in the office of the agent Tuesday, February 4. Enthusiasm ran high even though the day was not such a pleasant one and the roads even much worse. However this was not enough to keep twenty-eight enthusiastic club women from wanting to attend a rug school. Miss Hartfield gave demonstrations in the selection of materials, dyeing, combination of colors, and the making of braided rugs and mats. Rugs and mats were used in this demonstration that other club women had made from gunny sack material, old woolens and the mats of discarded silks. Each woman brought sufficient material to begin a rug. The following clubs were represented in the school: Ben Arnold, Hoyte, Jones Prairie, Duncan, Bryant Station, and Corinth.

Club leaders will give this same demonstration to their clubs during the month of February and in this way it is hoped that each woman will have the opportunity to make at least one rug during the year.

K. Floyd, Pioneer Is Dead At Age Of 75

K. Floyd, 75, of Maysfield, died here at 12 a. m. Thursday, February 6, 1930 following a heart attack.

Funeral services will be held at the South Elm cemetery on Friday afternoon at three o'clock with interment in that cemetery.

Mr. Floyd was brought to Cameron for treatment some days ago. He was a native of Mississippi, coming to Texas when 12 years of age. He had lived two years at Maysfield and prior to that time had lived near Buckholts. For the past 17 years he had made his home with his son, Tom F. Floyd. Green Brothers will direct the funeral arrangements.

He is survived by three sons as follows: T. F.Floyd of Maysfield. L. E. Floyd of Temple and I. M. Floyd of Beaumont ; one brother, I. M. Floyd of Madisonville; two sisters, Mrs. S. Henderson, Louise, Texas; Mrs. C. C. Sloan of Lufkin.

Rev. R. L. Nicholson of Maysfield will conduct the funeral services.

Military Training Camp June 10th

The Citizens Military Training Camp to receive candidates from this district will open on June 11 at Camp Bullis near San Antonio. The camp will close on July 9.

Young men who wish to attend this camp should get in touch with J. B. White, chairman for Milam County. Application blanks and descriptive literature may be had at the Herald office.

DRY WEATHER IS HOPE OF OPERATORS

WORK AT NEW LOCATIONS IS SLOWED DOWN BY RAINY WEATHER

With a dozen new locations designated for oil wells some of which are already indicated by new derricks, Taylor will in all probability be in line for some real excitement within the next two weeks, is the belief of oil men.

It will be at least a week on account of muddy roads before drilling equipment can be installed at various locations that are prepared at the present time for drilling. It will also be several days before the derrick lumber now piled along the end of the gravel road leading to the vicinity of the oil field can be carried to its destination.

It is believed almost a certainty that within three weeks some new wells in scattered territory will be brought in and a scramble for leases will follow in many directions.

The discovery well on the Abbott farm was still plugged this morning with about 150 feet of shale due to forcing in of the lower casing but drillers are at work today drilling through this impediment. While work was under way in casing the 700 feet of open hole at the bottom of the well before it was closed a beautiful showing was made with oil shooting over the derrick. A producer, better than ever, is expected when the drillers complete an opening again into the pay sand with the well now completed.

Jim McLauren, representing the Philipps Petroleum Company, was seen in the lobby of the hotel yesterday and while his business was not indicated it is known that his company specializes in the building of gasoline refineries.—Taylor Press.

Dodge DeLuxe Sedan With Radio Is Sold By Sapp Motor Co.

A straight eight, Dodge DeLuxe sedan with six wire wheels and equipped with a radio has been sold by the Sapp Motor Company to R. L. Batte Jr., of Thorndale. This is the first automobile to have been sold in this section equipped with a radio. The car has been ordered from the factory and will be received here within a few weeks.

Mr. Batte is city marshal at Thorndale and manager for the Batte industries there. He spent several days in Cameron this week visiting with relatives and friends.

THOMAS HOBSON, AGED PIONEER IS DEAD

NATIVE OF MILAM COUNTY DIES THURSDAY MORNING AT AGE OF 81 YEARS

Tom Hobson, 81 years, died at his home near Cameron this morning at 8:49 o'clock. Funeral arrangements had not been completed at the time of going to press further than that interment would be in the family burial ground on the Hobson farm with Green Brothers directing the arrangements.

Mr. Hobson was born and reared in Milam county. He has three children Tracy and John and Miss Vivian Hobson.

The death of Mr. Hobson brings to a close the life of one of the oldest citizens of Milam county. He had spent his life in this county and made a notable contribution to the history and development of this section.

Art Exhibit Here February 12, 13, and 14

Exhibit of 150 reproductions of the works of great artists will be held in Cameron at the Ada Henderson school on February 12, 13 and 14th under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association.

The proceeds will be used to purchase pictures for the school. An admission of 10 cents will be charged. The public is invited to attend.

Tickets will be placed on sale at Yoe High school in the immediate future for the Sixth Annual Stunt Night which will be an event of February 14. The price of admission is 35c for adults and 25c for students.

Legionaires Hold Interesting Meeting

The members of the American Legion met at the Ada Henderson building last Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. After Joe Rowland and his orchestra had played several numbers the following program was enjoyed.

Violin solo, Miss Imogene Sapp.

Dance, Miss Velma Newton.

Humorous reading, Miss Foldine Rylander.

Piano solo, Miss Mary Ellen Manning.

At the close of the entertainment, refreshments consisting of weenies, pickles, mustard, bread and coffee were served by W. R. Hoover and L. Van Perkins.

REVIVAL MEETING AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

REV. J. L. DAVIS OF CATERINA TO CONDUCT MEETING FOR CHURCH HERE

Beginning Wednesday night, February 26, a series of evangelistic services will be held at the First Presbyterian church in Cameron under the leadership of Rev. J. L. Davis of Catrina, Texas. Mr. Davis is pastor of the Winter Garden Parish which includes the towns of Catrina and Carrizo Springs.

The church here is making advance preparation for the services which will continue through March 9.

On next Sunday Rev. O. C. Williams of the Seminary at Austin will do the preaching.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASSES ARE ORGANIZED HERE

The Builder's Class of the Christian Sunday school has been dissolved, and two classes, one for the men and one for the women, have been organized. The women's class, known as the Young Matron's Class, met last Thursday afternoon with Miss Annie Wooley for a business session. Mrs. G. C. Walters was elected president of the class, Mrs. Nannie Bodiford, vice-president, and Mrs. Raymond Beard, secretary-treasurer. The class is attempting to raise a sum of ten dollars to be used for Easter decorations for the church, and they are having an old fashioned candy pull tonight at the Walters home. An admission charge of ten cents is announced.

Other matters of business were transacted after which Miss Wooley served hot chocolate and cake.

Seniors of Yoe High Get Rings and Pins

Excitement was at a high pitch in Yoe High school Monday morning when the announcement was made that the rings and pins ordered by members of the senior class had arrived. This news always brings a thrill, for it makes Commencement seem all the nearer at hand. Eighty-eight seniors out of a total enrollment of ninety-seven ordered a pin or a ring this year.

The design is the same as last year: Yoeman, star, cowboy, and 'Cameron, Texas.' The only difference lies in the change of date, and this variance means everything to the seniors of 1930.

GENE SMITH ELECTED CITY MARSHAL HERE

RECEIVES MAJORITY IN PRIMARY ELECTION HELD IN CAMERON TUESDAY

Gene Smith received the Democratic nomination for City Marshal in the city election held here Tuesday, February 4 having been given a majority of 46 votes over his two opponents. The nomination is equivalent to election and Mr. Smith will take the oath of office in April of this year.

A total of 798 votes were cast with 792 counted, there being six mutilated ballots. The only opposition in the election occured in the race for Marshal. There will be no run off election as provided for by the local precinct committee as a majority was given Mr. Smith.

In a statement to the people which appears in another section of this issue Mr. Smith gives his pledge to serve in this capacity and to enforce the laws. He is now receiving the congratulations of the people here and his friends have confidence in a way that will bring credit to him and justify the confidence expressed by this splendid vote.

No opposition occured in any other race. Dan Tyson, tax assessor and collector, led the ticket in the ballots cast, receiving every vote counted by the officials. B. P. Matocha as city attorney was second in the number of votes received.

The following are the results shown by the returns made by presiding judge Wm. Henderson:

For Mayor
W. W. Chambers	788
For Aldermen
J. F. Brown	735
W. O. Triggs	736
For City Attorney

J. C. Joseph	789
For City Marshal
Gene Smith	420
B. Slocomb	249
George Richards	125
For Executive Committee
S. M. Burns, chairman	783
Julian Baskin	757
Elwood Cammer	750
J. W. Coleman	758
Judd G. Davis	766

STUNT NIGHT

In addition to the fame attached to it by the good Saint Valentine, Friday February 14, 1930, is to have an added glory in Cameron this year because of the fact that it has been designated as the date for the Sixth Annual Stunt Night by the classes of the C. H. Yoe High School. From meek and lowly freshmen to dignified and pompous seniors, the student body is determined to make this program eclipse all others that have preceded it .A question mark is about all the information that can be given about this coming attraction. The whole thing is clouded in mystery, and a knowing look and a 'don't you wish you knew?' air constitute the sum total of information for would-be news gatherers. 'Come and see' is the motto. Competition for the prize-winning stunt is keen.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED BY MR. AND MRS. STEVE MAREK; CEREMONY AT CHURCH AND BIG DINNER AT HOME

Pledging for the second time the vows which they first made fifty years ago in Fayette County, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Marek observed their golden wedding anniversary on February 3, beginning the day with a ceremony at the Marek Catholic church, with Rev. Father Kacer officiating. The church was decorated in gold, smybolic of the occasion, and Father Kacer wore vestments of gold. There was a bit of sentiment attached to the fact that the ceremony was performed at the little Marek church. When Mr. and Mrs. Marek moved to Milam county in 1882, they settled in the Marek community and helped to establish and build the church there.

From Marek, the party came to Cameron and spent the day in the Marek home having a formal dinner at twelve o'clock and a light supper in the late afternoon. The dining table was covered with a gold colored cloth, and glassware was in gold. The huge wedding cake, which rested in the center of the table was iced in gold and was decorated with a single tiny green tree having on it fifty golden leaves and twelve silver ones, the last representing the children in the Marek family. Golden tapers burned in harmonizing holders at each end of the table.

Present for the occasion were the following children of Mr. and Mrs. Marek: Mrs. J. J. Kohutek and Mr. Kohutek of Temple; Mrs. John Hrozek and Mr. Hrozek and their family; Mrs. Mollie Lazek and children; Mrs. J. A. Valenta, Mr. Valenta, and their children; Mrs. A. V. Wokaty, Mr. Wokaty and family; Mrs. Leo Stecher, and family; Misses Carrie, Bess, and Marcella Marek; Steve and Albin Marek, all of Cameron. One daughter, Mrs. Fred Janicek of Clarkson, was unable to attend because of illness in her family. Guests other than members of the family were Father Kacer, Miss Theresa Picha of Marek and Mr .and Mrs. John Marek of Cameron.

Basketball Tournament February 14 and 15

The annual Milam County Boys Basket Ball Tournament will be held on the basket ball courts north of the Yoe High school building, February 14 and 15.

All teams entering this tournament should send their entry to L. Van Perkins, Yoe High School, Cameron. All teams should be on the grounds ready to draw for play positions at nine o'clock Friday morning, February 14. Play will begin at ten o'clock.

The winner of this County Tournament will represent Milam County at the District Tournament in Waco, February 22.

LION COMMITTEES NAMED FOR PROGRAM

CIVIC PROGRAM GETS IMPETUS AS MEN ARE NAMED FOR WORK HERE

The civic program of the Lions Club was given support here Tuesday when President Martin named four committees in accordance with instructions given at the previous meeting following the adoption of the four major objects outlined by the membership.

The following assignments are made:

Court house grounds: J. P. Love, J. D. Baskin and J. M. Ralston. This committee will have charge of the plans for improving the court house grounds and plans looking toward the removal of buildings.

Yard beautiful contest: Dr. James Watson, Joe Denson and L. F. Gohmert.

Safety campaign: John C. Young, Stanton Dossett and Claude Triggs.

Publicity: Rev. C. A. Lehmberg, T. A. Fisher and G. A. Gott.

CLIFTON JENNESS BACK WITH HEFLEY MOTOR CO.

Clifton Jenness, who has been in Houston for some time, has returned to Cameron and is now with the Hubert Hefley Motor Company, a position he occupied with the company prior to his departure for Houston.

In Houston Mr. Jenness was with the Texas Company in the pipe line division, making reports for that corporation. His many friends will be glad to know that he is again with the motor Company in Cameron.

MEDICAL SOCIETY IN MEETING FEBRUARY 1

DR. W. J. FONTAINE ELECTED PRESIDENT MILAM COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Dr. W. J. Fontaine was elected president of the Milam County Medical Association at its meeting in Cameron on Saturday, February 1, held in the office of Dr. G. B .Taylor.

Other officers for the association were elected as follows: Dr. D. E. Monroe, vice president; Dr. G. B. Taylor, secretary and treasurer.

The meeting was a profitable one for the doctors and many subjects interest to the profession and to the public were discussed. Dr. Taylor was elected delegate to the state medical association which meets in Mineral Wells in May of this year. Dr. W. J. Fontaine was elected alternate delegate.

Other elections were as follows: Censors, Dr. John L. Denson, Dr. A. S. Epperson and Dr. H. T. Coulter. Legislative committee, Dr. D. E. Monroe, Dr. T. J. Denson and Dr. T. E. Crump. Publicity committee on health Dr. M. C. Sapp, Dr. W. R. Newton and Dr. T. G. Barclay.

Dr. Burns of Buckholts was elected a member of the society.

A. MOORE

The body of A. Moore, who died at Childress Sunday, arrived in Cameron on Monday over the Santa Fe and was taken in charge by Green Brothers. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Methodist church at Minerva with Rev. McCown officiating. Interment was in the Minerva cemetery.

Mr. Moore was the father of Dan Moore of Cameron.

TAX PAYMENTS GOOD DESPITE CONDITIONS

ROY LAW COLLECTOR SAYS VOLUME EXCEEDS EXPECTATIONS THIS YEAR

Payment of both poll and ad valorem taxes in Milam county as the registration of automobiles, are in excess of expectations, accordnig to Roy Law, tax collector.

Conditions, it was believed would affect payment of taxes but according to Mr. Law there will remain unpaid a very small per cent of the total as compared with past years. Poll tax payments are near average this year and the registration of automobiles is average, the reduced fees aiding in the payment of the license fees.

Mr. Law says that the publicity given through the newspapers was very beneficial and if weather conditions had been better the payments would have exceeded the present volume by far.

BOY SCOUTS WILL OBSERVE FOUNDING

843,000 MEMBERS TO CELEBRATE IN NATION ON FEBRUARY THE EIGHTH

According to John Young, District Commissioner of the Heart O'Texas Council the Boy Scouts of America are to celebrate their twentieth birthday the eighth of February. This means that over all of the United States, 843,000 Boy Scouts will join together in their respective communities by celebrating in a fitting way the founding of the Boy Scouts of America, February 8, 1910.

The following program will be carried out in Cameron:

On Friday February 7, all Troops will meet at the K. of C. Hall at 7:30 p. m. to recommit themselves to the Scout Oath and Laws at 8:15. On Saturday, February 8, an inter-troop hike will be staged under the leadership of Chas. Pollard. All Boy Scouts are urged to meet promptly at two p. m. at the Court House.

On Sunday, February 9, all churches of Cameron are asked to have morning services fitting to the youth, if possible having a Boy Scout sermon. Scouts will attend their respective churches in uniform on Monday, February 10. The Scouts will observe School Day, under the direction of L. Van Perkins, they will do their school good turn, just what this will be has not been decided definitely. On Tuesday, February 11 Scouts will render their service to the town. Under the leadership of Ed Brod they will do their community good turn.

Full Time Nurse Asked For Milam

The Executive Board of the Christmas Health Seal Sale Committee met Saturday afternoon at the Court House to decide on what action is to be taken in regard to the money derived from the sale. A resolution was passed that the committee ask the County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations to present a petition to the County Commissioner's Court in their next meeting to be held on Febraury 13, asking them to supplement the amount derived from the sale and some to be furnished by the Red Cross with enough money to engage a full-time nurse for Milam County. The state board of health will furnish half the amount needed for the nurse's salary, if the county will supplement this with the other half.

A total amount of $514.01 was received in the sale of health seals. According to the contract with the Texas Public Health Association, 40 per cent of the money had to be sent them, leaving a total of $246.84 to be expended in the county.

Everyone who is interested in having a nurse in Milam county is asked to attend the meeting of the Commissioner's Court on February 13. Judge Kemp has kindly consented to give the first part of the meeting over to the presentation of the petition.

K. FLOYD

K. Floyd of Maysfield died in Cameron Wednesday night at 11:30 o'clock. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Baptist church at North Elm, according to Green Brothers, who are in charge.

MOTOR TRAIN KILLS J. C. WILLIAMS JAN. 25

ROCKDALE MAN LOSES LIFE IN COLLISION AT RAILROAD CROSSING

J. C. Williams, age 47, was instantly killed last Saturday evening when the car in which he was riding alone came into collision with the Southern Pacific motor train at the crossing on East Cameron street.

Witnesses of the tragedy state that apparently Mr. Williams never saw the train and possibly died without knowing what struck him. His neck was broken, though the body was not mangled nor badly bruised. The car was a total wreck.

The motor train was just pulling into the station, and was sounding the usual alarm signals. Several box cars standing on the 'team track' obscured the view of the train to some extent.

It is stated that the victim of the tragedy was driving at a moderate pace, going east, and that the speed of his car did not slacken. The car and the train reached the crossing at approximately the same time. The automobile struck the motor car at about the front steps, and was dragged some little distanct. It was firmly wedged against the train steps and crow bars had to be used to dislodge it. Mr. Williams was caught in the wreckage of the automobile and life was extinct when his body was removed.

The auto figuring in the crash was the shop service car of the Henry Garage. Mr. Williams had borrowed it to use while the garage mechanics were repairing his car. He was on his way out to Big Lump to pick up his sons who had phoned in that their truck had bogged down.

Decedent was a good citizen and a man of excellent reputation. With his family he had moved to Rockdale last October for the benefit of our schools. He owned a farm in the Sand Grove community where they had lived for a number of years. He was a member of the Milano Methodist church.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon, the services being held in the Sand Grove church, with interment in the cemetery nearby. Religious services were conducted by Rev. G. B. Carter of Rockdale and Rev. Tunnell of Franklin.

Decedent is survived by his widow and five children, three boys and two girls, as follows: Wilbur, Harmon, Eldridge, Lavalla May and Eugenia Fern. Also by his mother, Mrs. J. M. Dodd of Rockdale. two brothers, Chas. Williams of Milano, and Jim Williams of Cisco; and two sisters, Mrs. Nancy Booth of Hicks and Mrs. Ed Ferguson of Rockdale.—Rockdale Reporter.

$104,000 Paid For Lease In Field At Taylor This Week

Peak price so far, paid for a lease in the Chapman-Abbott new oil field in Williamson county, sixteen miles southwest of Rockdale, is at the rate of $1,000 an acre, states the Taylor Press. P. A. Diggs, a Fort Worth drilling contractor, announced the sale by him as a broker acting for other persons, of a ten-acre piece off the south 25 acres of the north 50 acres of the McConnell 100-acre farm adjoining the discovery well, $10,000 cash having been paid for this ten acres by Fred Hyer and Jas. B. Dunnington of Breckenridge, Texas.

Diggs also stated that $17,500 cash had been paid through him for a choice piece of acreage close-in to the No. 1 Abbott, but did not identify the tract nor give names of buyer.—Rockdale Reporter.

MRS. J. M. BOWMAN HOSTESS

Gift shop novelties were game awards for members of Ye Merry Wives Bridge Club meeting in regular session last Friday afternoon with Mrs. J. M. Bowman hostess. Mrs. Eugene Green made high score for club members, Mrs. Vernon Roberts for guest players and Mrs. Claude Triggs was low.

Following the games, the hostess covered the tables with linen luncheon cloths in white with touches of green applique and assisted by Mrs. Claude Bradbury, she served a salad course and iced punch. Green glassware was used for the service, giving the tables a springtime appearance.

Living Room Contest Details Are Listed By Home Agent

In view of the Living Room Contest the following details are called to the attention of club members and contestants by Miss Minnie Bartholomew Home Demonstration Agent.

Details to emphasize in living room improvement:

Screening

Windows should be completely covered by tight fitting screens. These should be on frames and fastened by hooks or hinges, so as to be removable for cleaning.

Screen doors should be strong, well braced and tight fitting with springs to keep tightly closed.

Accessories

Strive to make the living room one that can be easily cleaned, and one that always has the air of tidiness and spaciousness regardless of size. To do this it will be necessary to pay particular attention to unnecessary articles such as floor pillows, vases and flower baskets. These things make cleaning more difficult, gives the room a cluttered appearance; they are seldom used, and they are very often inartistic.

Choose materials for couch and floor pillows of good design of linen, crash, cretonne, Monks cloth, slub-osnaburg, etc., and make these to be useful and durable. The organdy pillow belongs in the bed room, oil cloth covering is not very comfortable for the head and are more appropriate for sun porches, swings, etc. Silk or satin pillows would be inappropriate on a demin covered couch. Pillows should be of good linens, squares, oblong and round are the best shapes; should be pleasing in design, and harmonizing in color. Pillows should harmonize with the other furnishings in the room. Avoid too many pillows. In making pillows consider economy with time and use only suitable and durable materials that will stay attractive when finished. In everything that is to be used in the living room it is well to work for appearance and usefulness of the article and for something that will wear for a considerable length of time.

Exercise care in the use of door stops. Have them inconspicious in size, and coloring. Have them to serve the purpose rather than acting as an ornament. The same care should be taken in the use of vases and articles made of paper combinations, and artificial candles. In many places the plain candle is more appropriate since the decorated are too ornate for use.

Choose vases of good lines and pretty colors, to harmonize wtth the desk or table it is to be used on. Wall vases should be used sparingly. A growing plant in a small pot will prove more attractive. Flower baskets seldom find an especial corner in the living room. Perhaps the hallway is spacious enough for one or two vases or baskets. lways use natures plants, the humblest flowers and shrubs are always more beautiful than the most gorgeous colored paper flowers.

The following subjects will be discussed at different times later on heating, wall paper, floors and floor covering and furniture.

Rockdale Roads Are Declared Impassable

Rockdale roads are in the most nearly impassable condition and in by far the worst condition since 1923, is the statement made by the several rural route carriers of the local post office. Several of the carriers were stuck in the mud Tuesday, and portions of several routes were unserved, it being impossible for the carriers to make their routes. Highway 44 to Cameron is the only road leading out of Rockdale that is safe to travel, it was stated Tuesday.

The recent unprecedented cold weather, with the ground frozen deep for many days, followed by much rain and drizzly weather, has completely 'rotted' the ground. Apparently there is no bottom to the mud, it is stated by those who have been having travel experience off the main highways.—Rockdale Reporter.

$1000 Acre Paid For Lease Taylor Field Near Abbott

One of the largest deals in leases thus far recorded was the sale of 260 acres in the tract of land located on the map as the Mrs. G. M. Griffin estate. This land was owned by Mrs. Don Noble and two sisters and was leased yesterday at the price of $400 per acre. This brought a total of $104,000. This land was leased to H. L. Brown, B. B. Simmons and J. A. Clark.

The first sales in this survey were made by the Hotel Oil Exchange under the management of Howard Bland Jr., and Ariste Zizinia, which consisted of a ten acre lease to H. L. Brown at $500.00 per acre and a 40 acre lease at close to the same price.

Another large deal was consumated by a group of local people who bought 11 acres of land out of the Walter Fuch property which is in the near vicinity of the well and stands partly between the acreage secured by Max Westheimer of Ardmore, Oklahoma, who is expected to return in a short while with Jack Prince, his driller to dig a well on his holdings.

This syndicate of local people who bought this tract composed of J. W. Armstrong, T. H. Brunner, John A. Thompson, Mrs. G. M. Booth, Joe and Will Espy, Mrs. R. E. Threadgill, J. M. Forwood and Brothers, A. E. Probst, Dr. G. A. Wedemeyed, J. V. and H. A. Stiles.—Taylor Press.

JONES PRAIRIE 4-H CLUB

The Jones Prairie 4-H Club was called to order January 28, 1930 at one o'clock. The president took charge and had the secretary call the roll, each girl answering with what they had done since the last meeting. Ella Louise Black reported on having twelve baby chicks and Margarett Johnson eight. Seven of the girls reported on having their sewing books completed. Lorene Brown and Dorothy May Black reported on having their materials for their garments, to be made during the coming year. One girl had her seams made. After the minutes were read Miss Bartholomew took charge and gave us some instructions on beauty which every girl is going to follow this year. We graded ourselves and the grades were mostly satisfactory. We are going to try to improve these grades next lesson. We had our pledge and were dismissed.

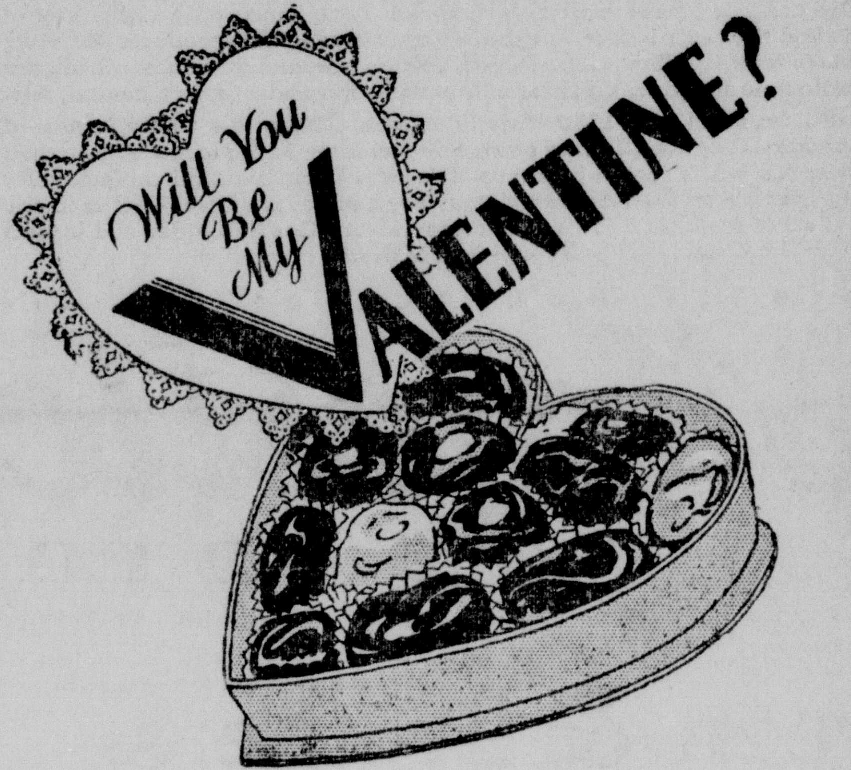
VALENTINE PARTY

Teachers and officers of the Baptist Sunday school met Thursday evening in the Sunday school annex in response to invitations inviting them to a Valentine party.

Games suggesting the Valentine motif were directed by Mrs. Joe Denson and Miss Bess DuBois. Refreshments of hot chocolate and cookies were served by Miss Mary Lake Henderson, chairman of the refreshment committee. A short business session was held late in the evening and plans were made for building up the Sunday school.



Will You Be My VALENTINE?

If she has a sweet tooth—and what girl hasn't?—she will chortle with glee at the sight of a box of delicious Artstyle Candy. It's a confection made with old time goodness. Satin covered, heart shaped boxes and sold at $1.50 per pound.

Telephone orders are accepted. Phone 21

MARVELOUS WORK NEW KONJOLA MEDICINE TOLD

THOMAS & SONS DRUG STORE TO INTRODUCE ADVANCED REMEDY FOR FIRST TIME IN CAMERON

If you were told that one single medicine put hundreds of men and women back to work in Chicago, Philadelphia and other large cities after they had been idle for months with health troubles, it would sound impossible, wouldn't it? And that countless people were completely relieved of rheumatism and neuritis, and that they were able to walk again, without cane or crutches, and that this same medicine restored health to men and women who had suffered with stomach and kidney troubles for years, that complete relief had come in cases of misery where health resorts, expensive treatments and medicine upon medicine had failed—indeed, it seems impossible! Yet it is all true, and the medicine that has done all these things is the new Konjola, which is being introduced, starting today at the Geo. A. Thomas & Sons Drug Store, in Cameron.

G. H. MOSBY
Discoverer of Konjola

Wherever introduced, this Konjola is vastly different and more effective in thousands of cases of ill-health than any previously known medicine. It is a remarkable liquid compound for the following well-known troubles.

RHEUMATISM: Especially severe cases, where pains are intense, muscles swollen, joints stiff and rigid. In the milder cases of this disease, Konjola relieves almost at once, and this medicine brings the same results to the neuritis victim that it does for the rheumatic sufferers.

STOMACH, LIVER, KIDNEYS and BOWEL TROUBLES: Nearly all forms of misery that arise from these unhealthy organs have been so quickly relieved by Konjola that men and women sufferers everywhere were surprised. It is the action of this medicine on the organs of the inner-system that removes toxic poisons from the system and brings quick relief in so many cases. The secret of this Konjola is the way it acts on the important functionary organs of the body, namely: the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. So many diseases and long standing disorders of these organs were so completely conquered and entirely banished by this new compound that thousands of people in larger cities were able to give up taking medicine for time to come.

After the great accomplishments and wonderful work of Konjola in other sections, it is declared that this medicine is what hundreds of sufferers in Cameron and vicinity have long needed to actually reach their cases, and preparations are being made to introduce Konjola for the first time at the Thomas & Sons Drug Store, where this medicine will be sold and explained to the public daily.

MAYSFIELD

Mr. Ground Hog surely failed to see his shadow all day last Sunday in the Maysfield community, so according to tradition we won't have six weeks more of the cold weather we have experienced in January, but the indications are that this part of Texas is trying hard to break its rain record. The ungraveled roads are impassable and even the highway just this side of the new bridge at Walker's Creek, became so bad last week that traffic was checked for a day or two. Load after load of gravel had to be hauled there and on Saturday afternoon two workmen stood there in the rain, throwing gravel in the ruts as the cars passed by.

Miss Mildred Newton spent last Tuesday night with Miss Velma Waits.

Little Miss Harriett Atkinson and her many friends were disappointed when it rained Saturday afternoon. Mrs. H. L. Atkinson had made preparations and given invitations for a birthday party in honor of her little daughter's seventh anniversary, but the rain made the roads too muddy for the little guests to attend.

Mesdames Francis and Wilkerson visited Mrs. Gum Ditto Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Wm. Freeman and twins, Billy and Betty and John and Jane with Ruby Nicholson, were Cameron visitors Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Anna Lou Weathers of Post Oak community spent Tuesday night in Maysfield with her aunt, Mrs. Wilkerson.

Miss Ada Massengale spent Tuesday night with Miss Mildred Ditto in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gum Ditto.

Rev. R. L. Nicholson filled his regular appointments at Marlow and Hoyte Sunday.

Mr. Nicholson was an invited guest at the birthday dinner given in the home of Mr. Bicket on Sunday in honor of Mr. Bicket.

The last report from 'Uncle' Bill Lindsey was that he was not doing well.

Mrs. Bill Thweatt and children Billy and Mary Allen, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Clay Phipps and other relatives in Maysfield.

Milton Floyd was the guest of Woodrow Wade Sunday night.

Miss Lucille Miller spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Willie Belle Holloway.

Miss Myrtle Mae Holloway was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. I. Brooks, Sunday night.

Miss Mildred Newton spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. Cox.

Rev. Hill, Baptist minister from Cameron, accompanied Rev. Nicholson to Maysfield Monday afternoon. Rev. Hill was on his way to Hearne.

Miss Cornelia Gunn spent the week en d with Miss Eula Cooper.

LET THIS AGENCY PROTECT YOU

To The People of Cameron:

I am sincerely grateful for the splendid vote given me in the City Democratic Primary election on Tuesday, February 4th, which gave me the nomination for City Marshal and I take this method of extending to one and all my sincere thanks and appreciation.

To my friends who were active in promoting my candidacy I extend my thanks and to those who voted for me. To those who voted for the other candidates I have no ill will whatever for I realize that always we must have our preferences in selecting men to fill our public offices.

Having received the nomination I feel a deep sense of gratitude and the confidence in me thus expressed by the people has made me deeply conscious of the responsibility I now have in discharging the duties of this important office. It will be my ambition to discharge the duties of this office with justice to all, fearless and impartial, measuring up to the obligation of this position to the best of my ability.

I realize that I must have and now ask the cooperation of the people of Cameron. With your assistance and cooperation and my desire to serve you to the best of my ability, I feel I can make you a good officer and I am sincere in my ambition to give my very best and I believe that I can so conduct the affairs of this office as to bring full justification for the confidence thus expressed in me.

To occupy this office is to serve the people and they are entitled to service and I am going to give the best of which I am capable. To this end I ask your co-operation and I pledge you here and now that I am going to give my time and thought to this office, to enforce the laws and to be your friend and servant as a peace officer in charge of the important duties as head of the police power of our city.

Sincerely yours,

Gene Smith

February Used to Have Thirty Days

The word February used to mean a great deal to the Romans. It comes from a word meaning 'to purify'; this was the month in which the people were purified for the religious festivals of the following months.

When Romulus made his calendar February was not in it, it was added later by Numba and was made the last month. Still later it was given its present position. Nor was February always a short month. Until the time of Julius Caesar it had thirty days. He, and then Augustus each took out a day to add to their own months.

The primrose is the flower for February and the amethyst is its gem.

The older generation is prone to brag about the spankings and strappings it used to get. There is perhaps arguments on both sides, but we distinctly recall that our own personal wayward tendencies were abruptly halted and turned into other channels by the timely and earnest application of the rod. There may have been other ways in which the result could have been accomplished. We do not know as to that. Not much time was spent in those days in figuring things like that out. The custom was to take the shortest cut to results. As we recall it and after very thorough introspection we can detect deep scars or complexes that resulted from such a method of correction.

It is reported by the engineering division of the Kansas State Agricultural college that there is one motor vehicle in the United States for every 9.2 persons.

A lot of publicity preceded the issuance of the new currency but you have perhaps noticed by this time that it is just as difficult to get hold of as was the old, it goes just as rapidly and gets just as dirty as the larger bills did.

Men are more vain than women. A man won't wear clothes that show his knees. There are few things funnier than the average man's knees.

A skull half an inch thick was reported unearthed in Arizona. Possibly belonged to a senator who referred to Westerners as sons of Jackasses.

Our daily informs us that there is a surplus in the United States treasury. We deem the information important. There will be quite a number who have been wondering just where the surplus is.

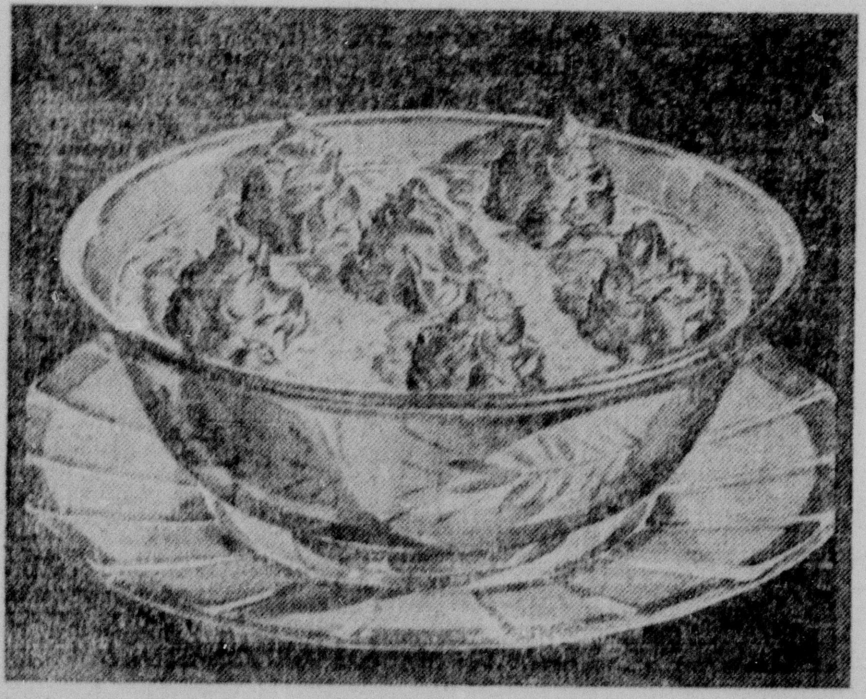
The growth of the airplane industry promises to surpass even the marvelous development of the automobile. The only thing that will hold back the development of the airplane is finance.

SENIOR CLASS MEMBERS GUESTS VALENTINE PARTY

Members of the Senior Class of Yoe High school were guests at a Valentine party last Friday evening tendered them by their president, Leland Green, Jr., at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Green. The house was beautifully decorated with red hearts and with red carnations.

Bridge, 42, and dancing were diversions. The guests were served chicken salad sandwiches, fruit cake, hot chocolate and marshmallows decorated with hearts.

Winter Dried Fruits and Tapioca Aid Housewives in Menu Making



MAKING a resolution to budget the household allowance more carefully and yet to give the family nourishing and tasty meals, wives and mothers are on the look out for new recipes. For high days and holidays come and go but the task of providing three meals daily goes on all year.

The winter dried fruits—figs, raisins, apricots, dates and prunes—can be made into a wealth of delicious desserts at small cost. They are Nature's own sweets packed with sugar for winter energy and should appear on the table often during the cold weather.

Here is a colorful Apricot Tapioca that tactful wives will serve after the Monday pot-luck meal. Even Junior will be willing to eat his carrots if he is rewarded by such a dessert.

APRICOT TAPIOCA

¾ pound dried apricots
3 cups water
½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons quick cooking Tapioca
⅛ teaspoon salt

Wash apricots. Soak in 3 cups water 1 hour and cook until tender. Drain. To juice, add enough water to make 2 cups liquid. Add Tapioca and salt, and cook in double boiler 15 minutes, or until tapioca is clear, stirring frequently. Add sugar. Cool. Force apricots through sieve. Fold pulp (about 1 cup) into tapioca mixture. Chill and serve with whipped cream. Serves 6.

FROM NORWAY

The lowly boarding house prune has come into its own, magically transformed by modern cook-craft into a variety of delicious desserts. Here is one of them. And it is so simple to make that you can put it on your list of last minute desserts for busy days.

NORWEGIAN PRUNE TAPIOCA

4 tablespoons quick cooking Tapioca
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon, or 1-inch stick cinnamon
2 cups unsweetened prune juice, or juice and water
4 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup cooked prunes, seeded and finely cut

Add Tapioca, salt, and cinnamon to prune juice, and cook in double boiler 15 minutes, or until tapioca is clear, stirring frequently. Remove cinnamon (if stick is used), add sugar, lemon juice, and prunes. Chill. Serve with cream. Serves 6.

MRS. W. H. HENLEY HOSTESS TO FRIENDS WEDNESDAY

Members of the As You Like It Club enjoyed games and pleasant conversation at the home of Mrs. W. H. Henley for awhile at their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon, and then they were invited into the dining room where they were served a delicious repast. The dining table was centered with pink carnations and place cards were in Valentine design.

Mrs. Henley served creamed chicken in patties, vegetable salad, fruit cake and coffee.

Colonial Homes Surely Constructed to Endure

Those who are familiar with the construction methods employed by New England coast house builders of the Colonial period are generally impressed by the foundation work. Today, after a century or more, one may find these foundations unshaken. Labor was cheap in earlier times; construction material close at hand. Perhaps such massive bases for the superstructure were needlessly extravagant, yet one must admire the honest work that has stood the tests of time.

At East Winthrop, Maine, there stands a massive Colonial dwelling, 107 years old, that has one of these typical foundations. It is formed of enormous granite slabs which are laid up three feet thick. It is tradition among descendants of the original owners that three yokes of oxen were required to haul some of these great stones to the spot.

Quite frequently one will come across one of these Colonial houses with stone chimney bases 20 feet square while on the ground floor there will be tunnels through the heart of the chimney, forming unique hallways from one part of the main floor to another. Foundations and chimneys were built to withstand the onslaughts of floods, earthquakes and centuries. Fire occasionally razes cleanly one of these Colonial dwellings, yet the hand of man is always necessary to tear apart that honest masonry.

Moose Given Points of Superiority Over Horse

The Swedish moose is a dangerous competitor to the horse, says a Stockholm Associated Press dispatch.

Some years ago a harnessed moose easily took first place in a horse race, but was refused first prize because the judges decided it was out of the competition.

Moose were used as saddle and draft horses several centuries ago until prohibited by a royal decree, as it was feared a criminal astride a moose could easily outdistance his horse-powered pursuers.

A Swedish country gentleman caught a moose bull as a calf and broke him for mail service. The animal proved more practical than a horse, since no gates had to be opened, the moose clearing them all without difficulty.

At one time a military expert proposed a moose cavalry regiment, asserting that a moose squadron would put fright into a whole horse regiment. The scheme was left untried.

Paper Has Kept Growth

In the United States the history of paper is the history of the country. When the Revolutionary war broke out there was hardly enough paper available to wad the guns of the soldiers or upon which to write the orders of their officers. There was virtually no paper. By 1810, however, the use had increased to about one pound per capita per year. It had grown to over eight pounds in 1850. The Civil war greatly accelerated consumption, which reached 25 pounds in 1869. In 1899 it was 57 pounds; in 1923, 150 pounds, and today the people of the nation annually consume more than their own weight in paper.

Bell-Ringing Clocks

Perhaps the earliest tower clock with bell-ringing mechanism was one made by Peter Lightfoot, a monk of Glastonbury, England, about 1325, writes Satis N. Coleman in his book, "Bells." Connected with this clock were automatic figures which struck a bell on the hours. These performing figures pleased the public, and many of the town clocks of Europe were provided with such figures to ring the bells on the hours. They were used for proclaiming time long before the introduction of clock dials.—Detroit News.

Unbreakable Glass

The bureau of standards says that in general non-shatterable glass is of three distinct types. One of these is unusually thick; another consists of two or more layers of glass cemented together with an organic binder, such as celluloid, and the third is prepared by special heat treatment. The first of these can be identified by its relatively great thickness, the second by examining the edge of the glass for laminated structure, and the third by its irregular figures, seen when the glass is examined in polarized light.

To The People of Cameron:

It is with deep appreciation that I thus express my sincere thanks for the vote given me on last Tuesday in the City Democratic Primary Election.

This vote is appreciated and to me it is an expression of confidence in my record as Tax Assessor and Collector and it is my ambition always to give the very best of service in appreciation for the action of the people in reelecting me to this office.

To the voters and the people of the City I extend my sincere thanks. The people of Cameron have been very generous to me in entrusting this office to me and it is with pride that I look back over my record of service and its approval by the people through their ballots cast for me.

I pledge anew my services to the people in this office and I hope to merit your continued confidence by rendering a service commensurate with the trust placed in me by the people of Cameron.

Sincerely,

Dan Tyson

Tax Assessor and Collector.

INSECTS AND DISEASES AFFECTING PEACHES

R. R. REPPERT, Entomologist

Plum Curculio

The plum curculio is the most destructive insect with which the grower of stone fruits has to contend. It attacks plums, prunes, cherries, peaches, nectarines and apricots, and is also a serious enemy of apples. The larva is the footless grub ordinarily found in peaches and plums, ruining them for the table, and causing plums especially, to fall prematurely.

The adult is one of our snout beetles, being brownish in color and about one-fourth inch in length. It is thus often mistaken for the boll weevil by many persons, who also contend that the grub found in peaches or plums is the young of the bnll weevil. Close observation of the adult beetle however, will disclose the presence of 4 black ridged tubercles o nthe wing-covers, which the boll weevil does not possess.

The beetles pass the winter under grass and leaves, on the ground in or near orchards. The trash collected about stone walls or under hedges furnishes ideal winter protection, and the greatest injury may be expected to result to fruits near such retreats. The beetles emerge from their protection just before fruit trees bloom in early spring, feeding to some extent on the buds and unfolding leaves and blossoms, but after the fruit is set confining their feeding mostly to this.

In feeding they make use of the jaws, situated at the extremity of their snout, to tear the tissue and chw it. The females utilize these jaws also to puncture the fruit for egg laying, the egg being crowded into the hole thus made. Wihle the feeding puncture is an ordinary small round hole, the egg puncture may be distinguished as a semi-circular cut, with the egg placed in the tissue at about what would be the center of the extended circle. The purpose of this semi-circular cut seems to be to retard the growth of the fruit tissue, which would otherwise crush the egg before it hatched. Egg or feeding punctures in plums or peaches cause a sap exudate, and are usually the cause of the small drops of gum on the fruit. Even though a grub fails to develop in a fruit, the puncture usually results in gnarled peaches or plums.

Eggs are laid as soon as the fruit is formed, and hatch in three to five days. The grub completes its development next to the seed within the fruit in about two weeks, when it leaves the fruit and falls to the ground, and continues there in its resting stage for three or four weeks before it transforms again to the beetle stage. This brood does not ordinarily lay eggs, but may continue to damage the fruit by feeding, finally seeking the location already mentioned as winter quarters.

The first step in controlling this insect consists in correcting conditions that favor successful overwintering. Clean culture to keep down grass and weeds in and about the orchard should be practiced, walls and stone piles in the vicinity of the orchard should be removed, and trash along hedges and fences destroyed. The beetles prefer deep shade for egg laying, and trees pruned so as to admit a maximum of sunlight will suffer least from the insect. Raking the fallen fruits, especially the very small early drop, into the hot sunshine, or otherwise destroying them, will prevent the development of the grubs within. Frquent shallow cultivation will destroy the insect after it has passed into its resting stage in the soil in early summer.

While the operations suggested in the foregoing paragraph will result profitably from this standpoint, as well as being good orchard practice otherwise, the favorite method of fighting the curculio has come to be by the use of an arsenical spray. One pound of dry lead arsenate is used in fifty gallons of water, to which is added to to four pounds of hydrated lime to prevent spray injury to the foliage. This should be applied thoroughly with a sprayer capable of generating a pressure of 100 pounds or more. The first application is made about ten days after the petals have fallen, or at the time the calcyces, or shucks are shedding. A second application should be made two weeks after the first.

Where disease is to be controlled also, especially in the case of brown rot on peaches, the spread of which is favored by the late feeding punctures of the curculio, the spray mentioned should be combined with the proper fungicide, to be outlined in other circulars treating of the respective diseases of this crop.

MARCH CHICKS

How time flies. Eggs set only a few short days ago were to hatch in February. Set now, they hatch in March. Don't delay. The hatching season is here. To delay now may mean that you will not get any early chicks this year. Set eggs now.

Hatching eggs wanted. We want to get in touch with all people having pure-bred flocks from which we can buy eggs this week.

L. E. Lawrence Now District Attorney In West Texas

In the lobby of the Blazilmar hotel today was found a quiet subdued looking man who calmly watched the excitement around him, which again proves that you can't always tell a man just by his looks. This man was no other than the fighting District Attorney L. E. Lawrence of that Wild section of the state known as Crockett and Sutton counties. It is a matter of record that since Judge Lawrence took this office those counties have had a real cleaning up of some hard cases and out of 271 trials since May of last year this District has secured 270 convictions.

Judge Lawrence is a cousin of Officer Bill McConnell of this city and a brother of Dr. E. L. Lawrence of Thorndale.

Mr. Lawrence is here looking after some land holdings he and his brother have in the vicinity of the new oil well.—Taylor Press.

Mr. Lawrence was formerly a resident of Cameron and shortly before leaving the city established an abstract business here. His friends will be glad to note he has succeeded in public office in these West Texas counties.

Teacher To Executive In Only Two Years

A few years ago he was a country school teacher, drawing a meager salary six or eight months out of the year, and discouraged with the outlook for the future.

Two years later he was Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of Arkansas, with an all-the-year-'round income many times that which he had drawn as a teacher 'I'm just beginning my career,' he said.

One decision, a little determination and the encouragement of a farsighted little wife made this wonderful change in the course of his life. His story may prove helpful to hundreds of others.

Raised on a farm, and having attended country school until he had completed a two-year high school course, Lonzo A. Ross was twenty-one years of age before he 'struck out for himself' as a country school teacher. For five years he followed this profession. Then, having taken unto himself a wife, he began to think a bit more about the future. He had made no progress as a teacher, although he liked the work. Encouraged by his wife, he decided to fit himself for a business position and enrolled at Tyler Commercial College at Tyler, Texas.

His first position upon graduation paid him a yearly salary more than three times that which he had drawn as a teacher. The following year he was appointed Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue—a position he could never have held but for his thorough T. C. C. training.

'At any cost, get a T. C. C. graduate,' is his advice t oemployers. And to employers. And to teachers and other ambitious young people; 'Get a T. C. C. training.'

In the big illustrated book, 'Achieving Success in Business' are printed scores of stories of men and women who have reached success as a result of training. The book is free. No obligation. Won't you let us send you a copy? Just clip the coupon below and mail it today.

After reading the poem by Longfellow, we wrote the life of Paul Revere.

Paul Revere

Paul Revere, a great patriot, soldier and politician, was born in Boston, December 21, 1734. Paul learned to be a goldsmith and silversmith from his father. In those days usually the son followed the trade of his father.

Paul did many great things in his later life. Most people think only of Paul Revere's midnight ride as the only important thing he did. This ride was important but he did other important things. Paul Revere was an engraver and printer as well as many other things, and he was the first man to engrave and print paper money in the United States. The government picked him to do this job because they knew he would do a very good job of it. In 1775 the government sent him to a powder factory to study the making of powder. The government sent him because they knew he had the ability to learn about the powder making. Paul was a Lieutenant Colonel in the American army. He also owned shares in at least one privateer, the 'Speedwell.' Paul was a bell-caster, one of the earliest and he made a copper rolling mill. The latter was very important, because the copper was used on the bottom of boats to keep the worms from eating the boat bottom. Up until this time the copper had to be shipped from England. Also in his later life he was chairman of Board of Health of Boston in 1801. Paul Revere died May 10, 1818, at the age of eighty-three.

Paul Revere is remembered for the following things: patriot, genius, inventor, hero, organizer and artist.

William Slaughter.

After reading the story 'A Message to Garcia,' we wrote the story in our own words or made an original story. We also told the lesson we get from this story.

A Message To Garcia

When the United States declared war with Spain no one knew where Garcia, the leader of Cuban forces was. McKinley, then president of U. S., wanted to find him. Someone told him that if anyone could find him, it would be an American Lieutenant, Rowan, that could do it. Rowan was sent for and told to carry the message. Did Rowan ask, 'Where is he?' He did not. The letter was placed in a leather pouch and placed over his heart.

Four days later he landed on the Cuban coast. Out into the jungles he went. After two weeks of hard search he found Garcia and delivered the message. How many men do you know of that can carry 'A Message to Garcia?'

Howard Terry.

A Message To Garcia

A business man had two good honest men working for him. One day he tried to find out which was the most capable. John Wilkerson, a social man with a considerable amount of money, was one of his clerks. Joe Young, a poor man with little money and eight children, a wife and mother to feed and clothe, was the other clerk.

Mr. Brown called for Mr. Wilkerson. 'Mr. Wilkerson,' said Mr. Brown 'will you carry this message to Garcia?'

'Who is he,' where does he live, why should I go?' asked Mr. Wilkerson.

'That's enough,' said Mr. Brown, and he sent for Mr. Young.

'Mr. Young, I want you to carry this message to Garcia.'

'Yes sir,' said Mr. Young.

'That's all I ask of you Mr. Young. I have found that you are the most capable and most dependable man. You can carry a message to Garcia.'

Frank M. Newton.

A Message To Garcia

When somebody asks you to go an errand and is not very definite (for the simple reason that they don't know themselves) the proper thing to do is to go and try, not to ask a number of silly questions. When Lieutenant Rowan was given the message to General Garcia by President McKinley he went straight to Cuba and didn't ask where General Garcia was to be found. He was successful in his quest. This is no sign that if we do not ask questions we will be successful.

Roy Baskin.

A Message To Garcia

The person, who can do something well when he is alone as when the 'boss' is around, is a worthy person. He can 'carry a message to Garcia.' The one who is willing to do his level best without asking silly questions is capable of delivering a message to Garcia.

C. W. Gjedde.

Original paragraphs were written after having read the story 'Battle of the Ants.'

Battle of the Ants

Johnnie, who was sent out to gather chips, saw such a commotion. Black ants were fighting two red ants. On an eminent chip of wood the fight raged. Johnnie picked up the chip and carried it into the house. He looked at the ants carefully. One of the red ants fell off and had to be taken to the 'Hotel des Invalides.' A wooden leg was made for him.

Carroll Green.

Battle of the Ants

The battle raged on with all the fury of a tornado. It swayed from one side to the other, sometimes the red ants in sight of victory and some times the black ones. Although the red aunts greatly outnumbered their black adversaries the black ants were twice as large and it seemed as they would win. There were groups of red ants here and there that seemed to be playing or singing some encouraging song to their fighting kinsmen. But as lon as I watched the battle I saw no black ants playing or singing. I had watched the battle for nearly thirty minutes and the black ants were getting the best of the fight, when suddenly from nowhere a regiment of red ants appeared into the arena and turned the tide. Although the black ants fought with renewed vigor the more numerous red ants won the battle. There were about the same number of slain and wounded on each side and but few black ants lived to tell the tale.

Ernest Sharpe.

Battle of the Ants

After struggling with, and finally defeating my two red opponents I was very bad off. I could not talk because my feelers were gone and I could not walk because all my feet were gone, excepting one.

I cut off the heads of my two victims though, and started to crawl to the hill. It took me many verstas of my life (a versta is the ant year) before I got to the burrow. When at last I got there I went to our hospit for the warriors. After being cared for by many special doctors and nurses, and using many secret and helpful medicines, my feelers and legs grew back and I took my place in the ranks of my queen's legions.

Giles Avriett.

The Wise Spider

A spider emits a sticky fluid on the wall then weaves a thread across, called the warp. The woof threads are up and down.

The mother spider hatches the eggs and then rolls them up in her web. These baby spiders grow fast. As they get older, their legs grow longer. When they get very old they die from hunger because their legs are too stiff for them to move quickly.

Joe Walker.

The Wise Spider

A spider makes its web by emitting a small drop of liquid on the wall. Then he starts flying along the wall and leaves the little thread behind him. This makes a web. If the little spider thinks it will not last long or will tear easily he will go over it again. To form the warp he flies across the wall and to make the woof he flies down.

The spider gets his food by capturing a fly or any insect that he can find. After a long time his legs grow weak and he dies. The female spiders are lots larger than the male. When she gets ready to lay, she makes a webb and lays her eggs on it. Then it is rolled up. If she thinks her eggs will be bothered she puts them in her forceps and carries them off.

One day I saw a spider that was making its webb. A fly came along and tore all of the webb up. After that the spider tried to kill the fly.

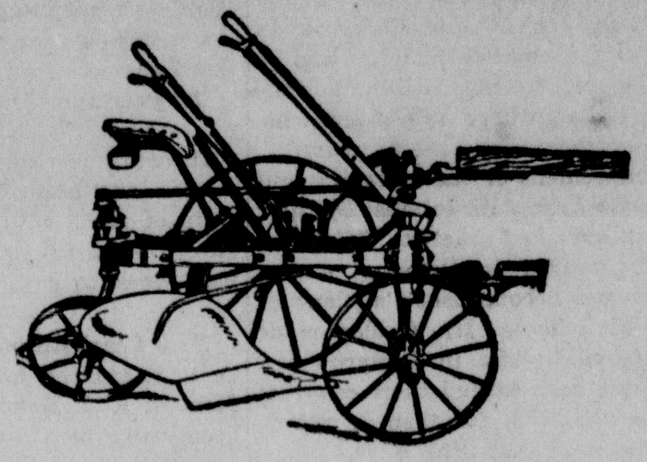
START RIGHT THIS YEAR



with a Case Riding Plow

THE Case Riding Plow is popular for several good reasons—it does clean, fast plowing; it handles easily; it keeps plowing costs down.

This plow heads right in and holds its uniform depth. It turns the furrow slice neatly, pulverizing it finely at the same time. All trash is covered and thoroughly mixed—assuring quick decomposition into valuable plant food.

It's mighty easy to handle. The powerful foot lift, spring assisted, lowers or raises the bottoms without using the hands. Easy-working hand levers, for depth and leveling, are at driver's right—not in the way, yet easy to reach.

And it's built to last! Rigid one-piece frame, freedom from stresses and strains, unusually light draft.

Miss Eunice Tyson And Marvin Golden Married In Dallas

Miss Eunice Tyson and Mr. Marvin Golden were married in Dallas Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Miss Tyson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Tyson.

Mr. Golden was employed by the Texas Power and Light Company in Cameron for several months, and is now engaged in the insurance business in Dallas, where he has made his permanent home for several years.

Announcement of the marriage will be received here with interest by their many friends in Cameron. Miss Tyson was reared in Cameron and a popular and accomplished student of Yoe High school. Mr. Golden made many friends while in Cameron and the people here extend their congratulations and wish for them a happy, prosperous wedded life.

JOE CHUDEJ

Funeral services for Joe Chudej, 62 years, who died at his home in the Marek community Saturday evening at about ten o'clock, were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Corinth, with Rev. Joe Barton of Granger the officiating minister. Interment was in the Corinth Cemetery, Green Brothers in charge.

Pall bearers were as follows: Chas. Hrochovy, Joe Ruzicka, Joe Zet, Lud Zaivcek, Rudolph Stecher and Cyril Plachy.

Mr. Chudej is survived by his wife, four sons and two daughters.

The Parent-Teacher Association will meet in regular monthly session on Thursday afternoon, February 13, at 3:30 o'clock at the Yoe High School Library. Miss Porter, principal of the Ada Henderson School, will be the speaker for the afternoon, taking for her subject, 'Home Responsibility for Sex Education.'

In order to stimulate attendance awards are being given each month to the room having the greatest number of mothers present. Miss Grace Mangum's room in the Ada Henderson School won last month and the prize was a pot plant. The contest is being continued for the meeting next Thursday.

GAUSE

Every sort of day together,
Makes a year of every weather,
Rainy days and clear days and days to go to school,
Winter days and summer days and days of spring and fall
To make the calendar, my dear, we have to take them all;
Here's a pretty day for trying, here's a rainy day for working,
But I can not find a single day in all the year for shirking.

It continues to be rainy and the roads are almost impassable. In spite of much rain and the bad roads many went to Cameron during the past week to pay their taxes.

Mrs. Pearl Anthony of Washington, D. C. is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. J. Ealand. Mr. Ealand is recovering nicely from his operation but because of his weak condition it will be several days before he will be able to return home.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Roberts of Rockdale were the guests in the home of their sister, Mrs. F. J. Cook.

J. M. Kilpatrick is visiting in the home of his uncle, G. W. Kilpatrick, Sr.

Miss Lucinda Turner left Sunday for San Marcos where she will enter school. Many of her friends attended her to the train, told her good-bye and wished her the best of luck in her school work.

Miss Jamison of Jones Prairie was elected by the board of trustees Thursday night to fill the place of Miss Hilliard, who resigned from the Gause school last week.

Mrs. Dr. Dubose was visited by her brother and nephew of Teague last week.

Tom Self, who is attending school at Hearne visited his parents Sunday.

Sorrow was brought into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wall Saturday afternoon when their little adopted daughter, Marie, age two, was taken by death. The death was due to pneumonia. The father had been away working on highway 43 near Jacksonville but was called to the bedside of the sick child Wednesday.

Jimmie Stewart of Tracy is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Mattie Ditto.

Mrs. A. Varner has been ill but her condition was reported to be improving today.

L. O. Bowling left Saturday night for Goosecreek to seek work.

Uncle Edd Lawson, a negro well known among the whites and colored of Gause and who had lived in the Six Mile community many years was buried at Six Mile Sunday. Uncle Edd was getting rather old and had been in ill health quite a while.

METHODIST BOARD STEWARDS ARE ENTERTAINED HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Green and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Rylander entertained the board of stewards of the Methodist church Tuesday evening at the Green home. A business meeting was first held and after this Rev. and Mrs. Lehmberg were honored with a social hour. It was Mrs. Lehmberg's birthday and she was remembered with a pot plant. Various contests furnished amusement.

The guests were served Osgoode pie and whipped cream. There were 25 present.

Valentine Parties Feature Society

The approaching St. Valentine's Day is proving inspiration for a number of parties and club meetings this week. Miss Hilda Burke used the heart motif on Monday evening, when she entertained members of the Entre Nous Club at her home. Valentine candy was served during the games, and at the conclusion the hostess offered cherry whip, more suggestive of February 22, heart-shaped cokies and fruit punch. Miss Goldye Burke made high score and Miss Iva Wilson was low, and Misses Iva and Ima Wilson were lucky winners of table cuts, which were candy jars filled with bath salts. Miss Frances Hause has been elected a member of the club, filling the vacancy made when Miss Jennie Shirley moved to Waco.

Another Valentine party was on Tuesday afternoon, when Miss Bess DuBois was hostess to the Tuesday Bridge Club. Score pads and tallies were in cupid and heart design and heart-shaped candies were served during the games. The hostess served a salad course and hot fruit punch on trays that were centered with novelty valentines for the guests. Miss Mary Lake Henderson was announced as winner of high score and Mrs. Dan Tyson was low. Guests other than club members were Mesdames James Childers, Graham Gillis, Floris Criswell and Miss Velda Walker.

Mrs. Joe Denson is entertaining members of the 42 Club this afternoon and she is also using Valentine appointments.

MRS. WATT HAWKINS

The body of Mrs. Watt Hawkins who died in Austin Tuesday night, arrived in Cameron Wednesday over the Santa Fe and was taken in charge by Coleman and Eplen, who had charge of funeral arrangements.

Services were held this afternoon at three o'clock at the Walker's Creek church. Interment was in the Walker's Creek cemetery.

Miss Carrie Marek In Address Presents Slovakian Facts

Miss Carrie Marek, in native costume of several years ago, told members of the Business and Professional Women's Club interesting facts about Czecho Slovakia in their meeting held at the club rooms Tuesday evening. Miss Marak's mother came from Csecho Slovakia to this country, therefore she was able to give first hand information concerning customs and manners of the people of that small republic. Her dress was of solid red material with a white blouse underneath the tight-fitting black velvet basque laced down the front. Miss Marek exhibited shawls and head pieces that have been in her family and in the families of her friends for scores of years. One of them was a large square of paisley which her grandmother owned before she was married.

Miss Marek was introduced by Miss Delphya Scott, who was master of the program. Mrs. Gladys Watson provided over the business session, at which time the revised constitution and by-laws were read by Mrs. Meta McCown and were adopted by the club. A meeting of District 3 of the state organization of B. and P. W. Clubs is to be held in Waco on April 26 and 27, and the members were urged to plan to attend this meeting. Covers for the year books were given to the members by Mrs. Watson. They were handpainted by Miss Mollie Moore with a chrysanthemum design, the flower of the club.

Miss Bess Marek, chairman of the refreshment committee, and her assistant, Miss Iva Wilson, served sandwiches, cookies, and hot tea. Following this the members were directed in Valentine games and were given fortunes.

Rug School Held Tuesday Attended By Fifty Women

Approximately fifty women attended the Home Demonstration rug school conducted by Miss Sadie Hartfield, District Home Demonstration Agent and Minnie Bartholomew, County Home Demonstration Agent in the office of the agent Tuesday, February 4. Enthusiasm ran high even though the day was not such a pleasant one and the roads even much worse. However this was not enough to keep twenty-eight enthusiastic club women from wanting to attend a rug school. Miss Hartfield gave demonstrations in the selection of materials, dyeing, combination of colors, and the making of braided rugs and mats. Rugs and mats were used in this demonstration that other club women had made from gunny sack material, old woolens and the mats of discarded silks. Each woman brought sufficient material to begin a rug. The following clubs were represented in the school: Ben Arnold, Hoyte, Jones Prairie, Duncan, Bryant Station, and Corinth.

Club leaders will give this same demonstration to their clubs during the month of February and in this way it is hoped that each woman will have the opportunity to make at least one rug during the year.

K. Floyd, Pioneer Is Dead At Age Of 75

K. Floyd, 75, of Maysfield, died here at 12 a. m. Thursday, February 6, 1930 following a heart attack.

Funeral services will be held at the South Elm cemetery on Friday afternoon at three o'clock with interment in that cemetery.

Mr. Floyd was brought to Cameron for treatment some days ago. He was a native of Mississippi, coming to Texas when 12 years of age. He had lived two years at Maysfield and prior to that time had lived near Buckholts. For the past 17 years he had made his home with his son, Tom F. Floyd. Green Brothers will direct the funeral arrangements.

He is survived by three sons as follows: T. F.Floyd of Maysfield. L. E. Floyd of Temple and I. M. Floyd of Beaumont ; one brother, I. M. Floyd of Madisonville; two sisters, Mrs. S. Henderson, Louise, Texas; Mrs. C. C. Sloan of Lufkin.

Rev. R. L. Nicholson of Maysfield will conduct the funeral services.

Military Training Camp June 10th

The Citizens Military Training Camp to receive candidates from this district will open on June 11 at Camp Bullis near San Antonio. The camp will close on July 9.

Young men who wish to attend this camp should get in touch with J. B. White, chairman for Milam County. Application blanks and descriptive literature may be had at the Herald office.

DRY WEATHER IS HOPE OF OPERATORS

WORK AT NEW LOCATIONS IS SLOWED DOWN BY RAINY WEATHER

With a dozen new locations designated for oil wells some of which are already indicated by new derricks, Taylor will in all probability be in line for some real excitement within the next two weeks, is the belief of oil men.

It will be at least a week on account of muddy roads before drilling equipment can be installed at various locations that are prepared at the present time for drilling. It will also be several days before the derrick lumber now piled along the end of the gravel road leading to the vicinity of the oil field can be carried to its destination.

It is believed almost a certainty that within three weeks some new wells in scattered territory will be brought in and a scramble for leases will follow in many directions.

The discovery well on the Abbott farm was still plugged this morning with about 150 feet of shale due to forcing in of the lower casing but drillers are at work today drilling through this impediment. While work was under way in casing the 700 feet of open hole at the bottom of the well before it was closed a beautiful showing was made with oil shooting over the derrick. A producer, better than ever, is expected when the drillers complete an opening again into the pay sand with the well now completed.

Jim McLauren, representing the Philipps Petroleum Company, was seen in the lobby of the hotel yesterday and while his business was not indicated it is known that his company specializes in the building of gasoline refineries.—Taylor Press.

Dodge DeLuxe Sedan With Radio Is Sold By Sapp Motor Co.

A straight eight, Dodge DeLuxe sedan with six wire wheels and equipped with a radio has been sold by the Sapp Motor Company to R. L. Batte Jr., of Thorndale. This is the first automobile to have been sold in this section equipped with a radio. The car has been ordered from the factory and will be received here within a few weeks.

Mr. Batte is city marshal at Thorndale and manager for the Batte industries there. He spent several days in Cameron this week visiting with relatives and friends.

THOMAS HOBSON, AGED PIONEER IS DEAD

NATIVE OF MILAM COUNTY DIES THURSDAY MORNING AT AGE OF 81 YEARS

Tom Hobson, 81 years, died at his home near Cameron this morning at 8:49 o'clock. Funeral arrangements had not been completed at the time of going to press further than that interment would be in the family burial ground on the Hobson farm with Green Brothers directing the arrangements.

Mr. Hobson was born and reared in Milam county. He has three children Tracy and John and Miss Vivian Hobson.

The death of Mr. Hobson brings to a close the life of one of the oldest citizens of Milam county. He had spent his life in this county and made a notable contribution to the history and development of this section.

Art Exhibit Here February 12, 13, and 14

Exhibit of 150 reproductions of the works of great artists will be held in Cameron at the Ada Henderson school on February 12, 13 and 14th under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association.

The proceeds will be used to purchase pictures for the school. An admission of 10 cents will be charged. The public is invited to attend.

Tickets will be placed on sale at Yoe High school in the immediate future for the Sixth Annual Stunt Night which will be an event of February 14. The price of admission is 35c for adults and 25c for students.

Legionaires Hold Interesting Meeting

The members of the American Legion met at the Ada Henderson building last Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. After Joe Rowland and his orchestra had played several numbers the following program was enjoyed.

Violin solo, Miss Imogene Sapp.

Dance, Miss Velma Newton.

Humorous reading, Miss Foldine Rylander.

Piano solo, Miss Mary Ellen Manning.

At the close of the entertainment, refreshments consisting of weenies, pickles, mustard, bread and coffee were served by W. R. Hoover and L. Van Perkins.

REVIVAL MEETING AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

REV. J. L. DAVIS OF CATERINA TO CONDUCT MEETING FOR CHURCH HERE

Beginning Wednesday night, February 26, a series of evangelistic services will be held at the First Presbyterian church in Cameron under the leadership of Rev. J. L. Davis of Catrina, Texas. Mr. Davis is pastor of the Winter Garden Parish which includes the towns of Catrina and Carrizo Springs.

The church here is making advance preparation for the services which will continue through March 9.

On next Sunday Rev. O. C. Williams of the Seminary at Austin will do the preaching.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASSES ARE ORGANIZED HERE

The Builder's Class of the Christian Sunday school has been dissolved, and two classes, one for the men and one for the women, have been organized. The women's class, known as the Young Matron's Class, met last Thursday afternoon with Miss Annie Wooley for a business session. Mrs. G. C. Walters was elected president of the class, Mrs. Nannie Bodiford, vice-president, and Mrs. Raymond Beard, secretary-treasurer. The class is attempting to raise a sum of ten dollars to be used for Easter decorations for the church, and they are having an old fashioned candy pull tonight at the Walters home. An admission charge of ten cents is announced.

Other matters of business were transacted after which Miss Wooley served hot chocolate and cake.

Seniors of Yoe High Get Rings and Pins

Excitement was at a high pitch in Yoe High school Monday morning when the announcement was made that the rings and pins ordered by members of the senior class had arrived. This news always brings a thrill, for it makes Commencement seem all the nearer at hand. Eighty-eight seniors out of a total enrollment of ninety-seven ordered a pin or a ring this year.

The design is the same as last year: Yoeman, star, cowboy, and 'Cameron, Texas.' The only difference lies in the change of date, and this variance means everything to the seniors of 1930.

GENE SMITH ELECTED CITY MARSHAL HERE

RECEIVES MAJORITY IN PRIMARY ELECTION HELD IN CAMERON TUESDAY

Gene Smith received the Democratic nomination for City Marshal in the city election held here Tuesday, February 4 having been given a majority of 46 votes over his two opponents. The nomination is equivalent to election and Mr. Smith will take the oath of office in April of this year.

A total of 798 votes were cast with 792 counted, there being six mutilated ballots. The only opposition in the election occured in the race for Marshal. There will be no run off election as provided for by the local precinct committee as a majority was given Mr. Smith.

In a statement to the people which appears in another section of this issue Mr. Smith gives his pledge to serve in this capacity and to enforce the laws. He is now receiving the congratulations of the people here and his friends have confidence in a way that will bring credit to him and justify the confidence expressed by this splendid vote.

No opposition occured in any other race. Dan Tyson, tax assessor and collector, led the ticket in the ballots cast, receiving every vote counted by the officials. B. P. Matocha as city attorney was second in the number of votes received.

The following are the results shown by the returns made by presiding judge Wm. Henderson:

For Mayor
W. W. Chambers	788
For Aldermen
J. F. Brown	735
W. O. Triggs	736

J. W. Coleman	758
Judd G. Davis	766

STUNT NIGHT

In addition to the fame attached to it by the good Saint Valentine, Friday February 14, 1930, is to have an added glory in Cameron this year because of the fact that it has been designated as the date for the Sixth Annual Stunt Night by the classes of the C. H. Yoe High School. From meek and lowly freshmen to dignified and pompous seniors, the student body is determined to make this program eclipse all others that have preceded it .A question mark is about all the information that can be given about this coming attraction. The whole thing is clouded in mystery, and a knowing look and a 'don't you wish you knew?' air constitute the sum total of information for would-be news gatherers. 'Come and see' is the motto. Competition for the prize-winning stunt is keen.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED BY MR. AND MRS. STEVE MAREK; CEREMONY AT CHURCH AND BIG DINNER AT HOME

Pledging for the second time the vows which they first made fifty years ago in Fayette County, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Marek observed their golden wedding anniversary on February 3, beginning the day with a ceremony at the Marek Catholic church, with Rev. Father Kacer officiating. The church was decorated in gold, smybolic of the occasion, and Father Kacer wore vestments of gold. There was a bit of sentiment attached to the fact that the ceremony was performed at the little Marek church. When Mr. and Mrs. Marek moved to Milam county in 1882, they settled in the Marek community and helped to establish and build the church there.

From Marek, the party came to Cameron and spent the day in the Marek home having a formal dinner at twelve o'clock and a light supper in the late afternoon. The dining table was covered with a gold colored cloth, and glassware was in gold. The huge wedding cake, which rested in the center of the table was iced in gold and was decorated with a single tiny green tree having on it fifty golden leaves and twelve silver ones, the last representing the children in the Marek family. Golden tapers burned in harmonizing holders at each end of the table.

Present for the occasion were the following children of Mr. and Mrs. Marek: Mrs. J. J. Kohutek and Mr. Kohutek of Temple; Mrs. John Hrozek and Mr. Hrozek and their family; Mrs. Mollie Lazek and children; Mrs. J. A. Valenta, Mr. Valenta, and their children; Mrs. A. V. Wokaty, Mr. Wokaty and family; Mrs. Leo Stecher, and family; Misses Carrie, Bess, and Marcella Marek; Steve and Albin Marek, all of Cameron. One daughter, Mrs. Fred Janicek of Clarkson, was unable to attend because of illness in her family. Guests other than members of the family were Father Kacer, Miss Theresa Picha of Marek and Mr .and Mrs. John Marek of Cameron.

Basketball Tournament February 14 and 15

The annual Milam County Boys Basket Ball Tournament will be held on the basket ball courts north of the Yoe High school building, February 14 and 15.

All teams entering this tournament should send their entry to L. Van Perkins, Yoe High School, Cameron. All teams should be on the grounds ready to draw for play positions at nine o'clock Friday morning, February 14. Play will begin at ten o'clock.

The winner of this County Tournament will represent Milam County at the District Tournament in Waco, February 22.

LION COMMITTEES NAMED FOR PROGRAM

CIVIC PROGRAM GETS IMPETUS AS MEN ARE NAMED FOR WORK HERE

The civic program of the Lions Club was given support here Tuesday when President Martin named four committees in accordance with instructions given at the previous meeting following the adoption of the four major objects outlined by the membership.

The following assignments are made:

Court house grounds: J. P. Love, J. D. Baskin and J. M. Ralston. This committee will have charge of the plans for improving the court house grounds and plans looking toward the removal of buildings.

A. MOORE

The body of A. Moore, who died at Childress Sunday, arrived in Cameron on Monday over the Santa Fe and was taken in charge by Green Brothers. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Methodist church at Minerva with Rev. McCown officiating. Interment was in the Minerva cemetery.

Mr. Moore was the father of Dan Moore of Cameron.

TAX PAYMENTS GOOD DESPITE CONDITIONS

ROY LAW COLLECTOR SAYS VOLUME EXCEEDS EXPECTATIONS THIS YEAR

Payment of both poll and ad valorem taxes in Milam county as the registration of automobiles, are in excess of expectations, accordnig to Roy Law, tax collector.

Conditions, it was believed would affect payment of taxes but according to Mr. Law there will remain unpaid a very small per cent of the total as compared with past years. Poll tax payments are near average this year and the registration of automobiles is average, the reduced fees aiding in the payment of the license fees.

Mr. Law says that the publicity given through the newspapers was very beneficial and if weather conditions had been better the payments would have exceeded the present volume by far.

BOY SCOUTS WILL OBSERVE FOUNDING

843,000 MEMBERS TO CELEBRATE IN NATION ON FEBRUARY THE EIGHTH

According to John Young, District Commissioner of the Heart O'Texas Council the Boy Scouts of America are to celebrate their twentieth birthday the eighth of February. This means that over all of the United States, 843,000 Boy Scouts will join together in their respective communities by celebrating in a fitting way the founding of the Boy Scouts of America, February 8, 1910.

The following program will be carried out in Cameron:

On Friday February 7, all Troops will meet at the K. of C. Hall at 7:30 p. m. to recommit themselves to the Scout Oath and Laws at 8:15. On Saturday, February 8, an inter-troop hike will be staged under the leadership of Chas. Pollard. All Boy Scouts are urged to meet promptly at two p. m. at the Court House.

On Sunday, February 9, all churches of Cameron are asked to have morning services fitting to the youth, if possible having a Boy Scout sermon. Scouts will attend their respective churches in uniform on Monday, February 10. The Scouts will observe School Day, under the direction of L. Van Perkins, they will do their school good turn, just what this will be has not been decided definitely. On Tuesday, February 11 Scouts will render their service to the town. Under the leadership of Ed Brod they will do their community good turn.

Full Time Nurse Asked For Milam

The Executive Board of the Christmas Health Seal Sale Committee met Saturday afternoon at the Court House to decide on what action is to be taken in regard to the money derived from the sale. A resolution was passed that the committee ask the County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations to present a petition to the County Commissioner's Court in their next meeting to be held on Febnuary 13, asking them to supplement the amount derived from the sale and some to be furnished by the Red Cross with enough money to engage a full-time nurse for Milam County. The state board of health will furnish half the amount needed for the nurse's salary, if the county will supplement this with the other half.

A total amount of $514.01 was received in the sale of health seals. According to the contract with the Texas Public Health Association, 40 per cent of the money had to be sent them, leaving a total of $246.84 to be expended in the county.

Everyone who is interested in having a nurse in Milam county is asked to attend the meeting of the Commissioner's Court on February 13. Judge Kemp has kindly consented to give the first part of the meeting over to the presentation of the petition.

K. FLOYD

K. Floyd of Maysfield died in Cameron Wednesday night at 11:30 o'clock. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Baptist church at North Elm, according to Green Brothers, who are in charge.

MOTOR TRAIN KILLS J. C. WILLIAMS JAN. 25

ROCKDALE MAN LOSES LIFE IN COLLISION AT RAILROAD CROSSING

J. C. Williams, age 47, was instantly killed last Saturday evening when the car in which he was riding alone came into collision with the Southern Pacific motor train at the crossing on East Cameron street.

Witnesses of the tragedy state that apparently Mr. Williams never saw the train and possibly died without knowing what struck him. His neck was broken, though the body was not mangled nor badly bruised. The car was a total wreck.

The motor train was just pulling into the station, and was sounding the usual alarm signals. Several box cars standing on the 'team track' obscured the view of the train to some extent.

It is stated that the victim of the tragedy was driving at a moderate pace, going east, and that the speed of his car did not slacken. The car and the train reached the crossing at approximately the same time. The automobile struck the motor car at about the front steps, and was dragged some little distanct. It was firmly wedged against the train steps and crow bars had to be used to dislodge it. Mr. Williams was caught in the wreckage of the automobile and life was extinct when his body was removed.

The auto figuring in the crash was the shop service car of the Henry Garage. Mr. Williams had borrowed it to use while the garage mechanics were repairing his car. He was on his way out to Big Lump to pick up his sons who had phoned in that their truck had bogged down.

Decedent was a good citizen and a man of excellent reputation. With his family he had moved to Rockdale last October for the benefit of our schools. He owned a farm in the Sand Grove community where they had lived for a number of years. He was a member of the Milano Methodist church.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon, the services being held in the Sand Grove church, with interment in the cemetery nearby. Religious services were conducted by Rev. G. B. Carter of Rockdale and Rev. Tunnell of Franklin.

Decedent is survived by his widow and five children, three boys and two girls, as follows: Wilbur, Harmon, Eldridge, Lavalla May and Eugenia Fern. Also by his mother, Mrs. J. M. Dodd of Rockdale. two brothers, Chas. Williams of Milano, and Jim Williams of Cisco; and two sisters, Mrs. Nancy Booth of Hicks and Mrs. Ed Ferguson of Rockdale.—Rockdale Reporter.

$104,000 Paid For Lease In Field At Taylor This Week

Peak price so far, paid for a lease in the Chapman-Abbott new oil field in Williamson county, sixteen miles southwest of Rockdale, is at the rate of $1,000 an acre, states the Taylor Press. P. A. Diggs, a Fort Worth drilling contractor, announced the sale by him as a broker acting for other persons, of a ten-acre piece off the south 25 acres of the north 50 acres of the McConnell 100-acre farm adjoining the discovery well, $10,000 cash having been paid for this ten acres by Fred Hyer and Jas. B. Dunnington of Breckenridge, Texas.

Diggs also stated that $17,500 cash had been paid through him for a choice piece of acreage close-in to the No. 1 Abbott, but did not identify the tract nor give names of buyer.—Rockdale Reporter.

MRS. J. M. BOWMAN HOSTESS

Gift shop novelties were game awards for members of Ye Merry Wives Bridge Club meeting in regular session last Friday afternoon with Mrs. J. M. Bowman hostess. Mrs. Eugene Green made high score for club members, Mrs. Vernon Roberts for guest players and Mrs. Claude Triggs was low.

Following the games, the hostess covered the tables with linen luncheon cloths in white with touches of green applique and assisted by Mrs. Claude Bradbury, she served a salad course and iced punch. Green glassware was used for the service, giving the tables a springtime appearance.

Living Room Contest Details Are Listed By Home Agent

In view of the Living Room Contest the following details are called to the attention of club members and contestants by Miss Minnie Bartholomew Home Demonstration Agent.

Details to emphasize in living room improvement:

Screening

Windows should be completely covered by tight fitting screens. These should be on frames and fastened by hooks or hinges, so as to be removable for cleaning.

Screen doors should be strong, well braced and tight fitting with springs to keep tightly closed.

Accessories

Strive to make the living room one that can be easily cleaned, and one that always has the air of tidiness and spaciousness regardless of size. To do this it will be necessary to pay particular attention to unnecessary articles such as floor pillows, vases and flower baskets. These things make cleaning more difficult, gives the room a cluttered appearance; they are seldom used, and they are very often inartistic.

Choose materials for couch and floor pillows of good design of linen, crash, cretonne, Monks cloth, slub-osnaburg, etc., and make these to be useful and durable. The organdy pillow belongs in the bed room, oil cloth covering is not very comfortable for the head and are more appropriate for sun porches, swings, etc. Silk or satin pillows would be inappropriate on a demin covered couch. Pillows should be of good linens, squares, oblong and round are the best shapes; should be pleasing in design, and harmonizing in color. Pillows should harmonize with the other furnishings in the room. Avoid too many pillows. In making pillows consider economy with time and use only suitable and durable materials that will stay attractive when finished. In everything that is to be used in the living room it is well to work for appearance and usefulness of the article and for something that will wear for a considerable length of time.

Exercise care in the use of door stops. Have them inconspicious in size, and coloring. Have them to serve the purpose rather than acting as an ornament. The same care should be taken in the use of vases and articles made of paper combinations, and artificial candles. In many places the plain candle is more appropriate since the decorated are too ornate for use.

Choose vases of good lines and pretty colors, to harmonize wtth the desk or table it is to be used on. Wall vases should be used sparingly. A growing plant in a small pot will prove more attractive. Flower baskets seldom find an especial corner in the living room. Perhaps the hallway is spacious enough for one or two vases or baskets. lways use natures plants, the humblest flowers and shrubs are always more beautiful than the most gorgeous colored paper flowers.

The following subjects will be discussed at different times later on heating, wall paper, floors and floor covering and furniture.

Rockdale Roads Are Declared Impassable

Rockdale roads are in the most nearly impassable condition and in by far the worst condition since 1923, is the statement made by the several rural route carriers of the local post office. Several of the carriers were stuck in the mud Tuesday, and portions of several routes were unserved, it being impossible for the carriers to make their routes. Highway 44 to Cameron is the only road leading out of Rockdale that is safe to travel, it was stated Tuesday.

The recent unprecedented cold weather, with the ground frozen deep for many days, followed by much rain and drizzly weather, has completely 'rotted' the ground. Apparently there is no bottom to the mud, it is stated by those who have been having travel experience off the main highways.—Rockdale Reporter.

$1000 Acre Paid For Lease Taylor Field Near Abbott

One of the largest deals in leases thus far recorded was the sale of 260 acres in the tract of land located on the map as the Mrs. G. M. Griffin estate. This land was owned by Mrs. Don Noble and two sisters and was leased yesterday at the price of $400 per acre. This brought a total of $104,000. This land was leased to H. L. Brown, B. B. Simmons and J. A. Clark.

The first sales in this survey were made by the Hotel Oil Exchange under the management of Howard Bland Jr., and Ariste Zizinia, which consisted of a ten acre lease to H. L. Brown at $500.00 per acre and a 40 acre lease at close to the same price.

Another large deal was consumated by a group of local people who bought 11 acres of land out of the Walter Fuch property which is in the near vicinity of the well and stands partly between the acreage secured by Max Westheimer of Ardmore, Oklahoma, who is expected to return in a short while with Jack Prince, his driller to dig a well on his holdings.

This syndicate of local people who bought this tract composed of J. W. Armstrong, T. H. Brunner, John A. Thompson, Mrs. G. M. Booth, Joe and Will Espy, Mrs. R. E. Threadgill, J. M. Forwood and Brothers, A. E. Probst, Dr. G. A. Wedemeyed, J. V. and H. A. Stiles.—Taylor Press.

JONES PRAIRIE 4-H CLUB

The Jones Prairie 4-H Club was called to order January 28, 1930 at one o'clock. The president took charge and had the secretary call the roll, each girl answering with what they had done since the last meeting. Ella Louise Black reported on having twelve baby chicks and Margarett Johnson eight. Seven of the girls reported on having their sewing books completed. Lorene Brown and Dorothy May Black reported on having their materials for their garments, to be made during the coming year. One girl had her seams made. After the minutes were read Miss Bartholomew took charge and gave us some instructions on beauty which every girl is going to follow this year. We graded ourselves and the grades were mostly satisfactory. We are going to try to improve these grades next lesson. We had our pledge and were dismissed.

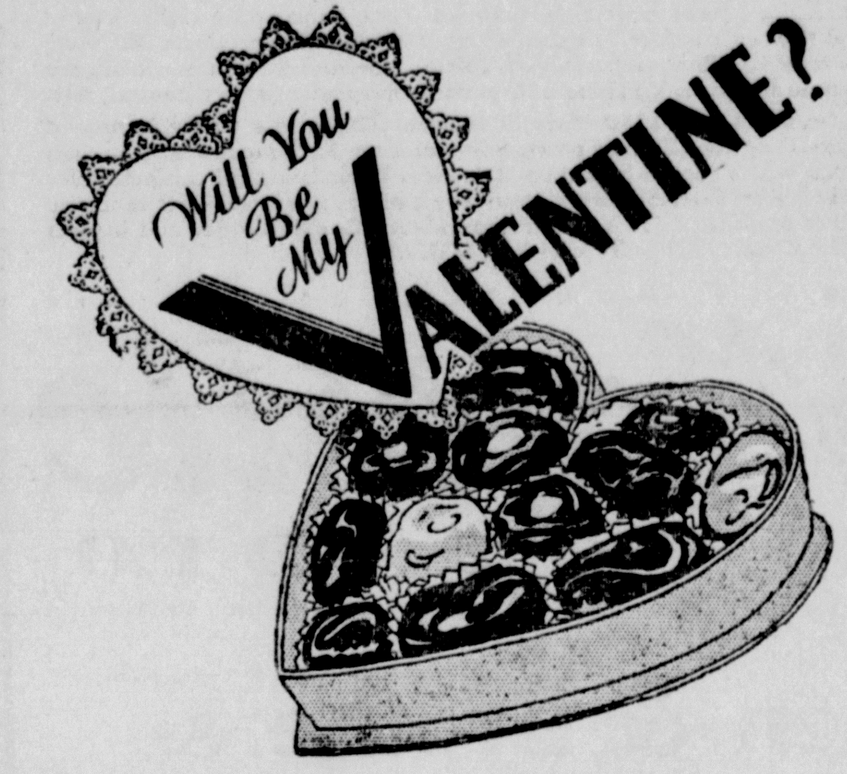
VALENTINE PARTY

Teachers and officers of the Baptist Sunday school met Thursday evening in the Sunday school annex in response to invitations inviting them to a Valentine party.

Games suggesting the Valentine motif were directed by Mrs. Joe Denson and Miss Bess DuBois. Refreshments of hot chocolate and cookies were served by Miss Mary Lake Henderson, chairman of the refreshment committee. A short business session was held late in the evening and plans were made for building up the Sunday school.



Will You Be My VALENTINE?

If she has a sweet tooth—and what girl hasn't?—she will chortle with glee at the sight of a box of delicious Artstyle Candy. It's a confection made with old time goodness. Satin covered, heart shaped boxes and sold at $1.50 per pound.

MARVELOUS WORK NEW KONJOLA MEDICINE TOLD

THOMAS & SONS DRUG STORE TO INTRODUCE ADVANCED REMEDY FOR FIRST TIME IN CAMERON

If you were told that one single medicine put hundreds of men and women back to work in Chicago, Philadelphia and other large cities after they had been idle for months with health troubles, it would sound impossible, wouldn't it? And that countless people were completely relieved of rheumatism and neuritis, and that they were able to walk again, without cane or crutches, and that this same medicine restored health to men and women who had suffered with stomach and kidney troubles for years, that complete relief had come in cases of misery where health resorts, expensive treatments and medicine upon medicine had failed—indeed, it seems impossible! Yet it is all true, and the medicine that has done all these things is the new Konjola, which is being introduced, starting today at the Geo. A. Thomas & Sons Drug Store, in Cameron.

G. H. MOSBY
Discoverer of Konjola

Wherever introduced, this Konjola is vastly different and more effective in thousands of cases of ill-health than any previously known medicine. It is a remarkable liquid compound for the following well-known troubles.

RHEUMATISM: Especially severe cases, where pains are intense, muscles swollen, joints stiff and rigid. In the milder cases of this disease, Konjola relieves almost at once, and this medicine brings the same results to the neuritis victim that it does for the rheumatic sufferers.

STOMACH, LIVER, KIDNEYS and BOWEL TROUBLES: Nearly all forms of misery that arise from these unhealthy organs have been so quickly relieved by Konjola that men and women sufferers everywhere were surprised. It is the action of this medicine on the organs of the inner-system that removes toxic poisons from the system and brings quick relief in so many cases. The secret of this Konjola is the way it acts on the important functionary organs of the body, namely: the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. So many diseases and long standing disorders of these organs were so completely conquered and entirely banished by this new compound that thousands of people in larger cities were able to give up taking medicine for time to come.

After the great accomplishments and wonderful work of Konjola in other sections, it is declared that this medicine is what hundreds of sufferers in Cameron and vicinity have long needed to actually reach their cases, and preparations are being made to introduce Konjola for the first time at the Thomas & Sons Drug Store, where this medicine will be sold and explained to the public daily.

MAYSFIELD

Mr. Ground Hog surely failed to see his shadow all day last Sunday in the Maysfield community, so according to tradition we won't have six weeks more of the cold weather we have experienced in January, but the indications are that this part of Texas is trying hard to break its rain record. The ungraveled roads are impassable and even the highway just this side of the new bridge at Walker's Creek, became so bad last week that traffic was checked for a day or two. Load after load of gravel had to be hauled there and on Saturday afternoon two workmen stood there in the rain, throwing gravel in the ruts as the cars passed by.

Miss Mildred Newton spent last Tuesday night with Miss Velma Waits.

Little Miss Harriett Atkinson and her many friends were disappointed when it rained Saturday afternoon. Mrs. H. L. Atkinson had made preparations and given invitations for a birthday party in honor of her little daughter's seventh anniversary, but the rain made the roads too muddy for the little guests to attend.

Mesdames Francis and Wilkerson visited Mrs. Gum Ditto Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Wm. Freeman and twins, Billy and Betty and John and Jane with Ruby Nicholson, were Cameron visitors Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Anna Lou Weathers of Post Oak community spent Tuesday night in Maysfield with her aunt, Mrs. Wilkerson.

Miss Ada Massengale spent Tuesday night with Miss Mildred Ditto in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gum Ditto.

Rev. R. L. Nicholson filled his regular appointments at Marlow and Hoyte Sunday.

Mr. Nicholson was an invited guest at the birthday dinner given in the home of Mr. Bicket on Sunday in honor of Mr. Bicket.

The last report from 'Uncle' Bill Lindsey was that he was not doing well.

Mrs. Bill Thweatt and children Billy and Mary Allen, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Clay Phipps and other relatives in Maysfield.

Milton Floyd was the guest of Woodrow Wade Sunday night.

Miss Lucille Miller spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Willie Belle Holloway.

Miss Myrtle Mae Holloway was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. I. Brooks, Sunday night.

Miss Mildred Newton spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. Cox.

Rev. Hill, Baptist minister from Cameron, accompanied Rev. Nicholson to Maysfield Monday afternoon. Rev. Hill was on his way to Hearne.

Miss Cornelia Gunn spent the week en d with Miss Eula Cooper.

LET THIS AGENCY PROTECT YOU

To The People of Cameron:

I am sincerely grateful for the splendid vote given me in the City Democratic Primary election on Tuesday, February 4th, which gave me the nomination for City Marshal and I take this method of extending to one and all my sincere thanks and appreciation.

To my friends who were active in promoting my candidacy I extend my thanks and to those who voted for me. To those who voted for the other candidates I have no ill will whatever for I realize that always we must have our preferences in selecting men to fill our public offices.

Having received the nomination I feel a deep sense of gratitude and the confidence in me thus expressed by the people has made me deeply conscious of the responsibility I now have in discharging the duties of this important office. It will be my ambition to discharge the duties of this office with justice to all, fearless and impartial, measuring up to the obligation of this position to the best of my ability.

I realize that I must have and now ask the cooperation of the people of Cameron. With your assistance and cooperation and my desire to serve you to the best of my ability, I feel I can make you a good officer and I am sincere in my ambition to give my very best and I believe that I can so conduct the affairs of this office as to bring full justification for the confidence thus expressed in me.

To occupy this office is to serve the people and they are entitled to service and I am going to give the best of which I am capable. To this end I ask your co-operation and I pledge you here and now that I am going to give my time and thought to this office, to enforce the laws and to be your friend and servant as a peace officer in charge of the important duties as head of the police power of our city.

Sincerely yours,

Gene Smith

February Used to Have Thirty Days

The word February used to mean a great deal to the Romans. It comes from a word meaning 'to purify'; this was the month in which the people were purified for the religious festivals of the following months.

When Romulus made his calendar February was not in it, it was added later by Numba and was made the last month. Still later it was given its present position. Nor was February always a short month. Until the time of Julius Caesar it had thirty days. He, and then Augustus each took out a day to add to their own months.

The primrose is the flower for February and the amethyst is its gem.

The older generation is prone to brag about the spankings and strappings it used to get. There is perhaps arguments on both sides, but we distinctly recall that our own personal wayward tendencies were abruptly halted and turned into other channels by the timely and earnest application of the rod. There may have been other ways in which the result could have been accomplished. We do not know as to that. Not much time was spent in those days in figuring things like that out. The custom was to take the shortest cut to results. As we recall it and after very thorough introspection we can detect deep scars or complexes that resulted from such a method of correction.

It is reported by the engineering division of the Kansas State Agricultural college that there is one motor vehicle in the United States for every 9.2 persons.

A lot of publicity preceded the issuance of the new currency but you have perhaps noticed by this time that it is just as difficult to get hold of as was the old, it goes just as rapidly and gets just as dirty as the larger bills did.

Men are more vain than women. A man won't wear clothes that show his knees. There are few things funnier than the average man's knees.

A skull half an inch thick was reported unearthed in Arizona. Possibly belonged to a senator who referred to Westerners as sons of Jackasses.

Our daily informs us that there is a surplus in the United States treasury. We deem the information important. There will be quite a number who have been wondering just where the surplus is.

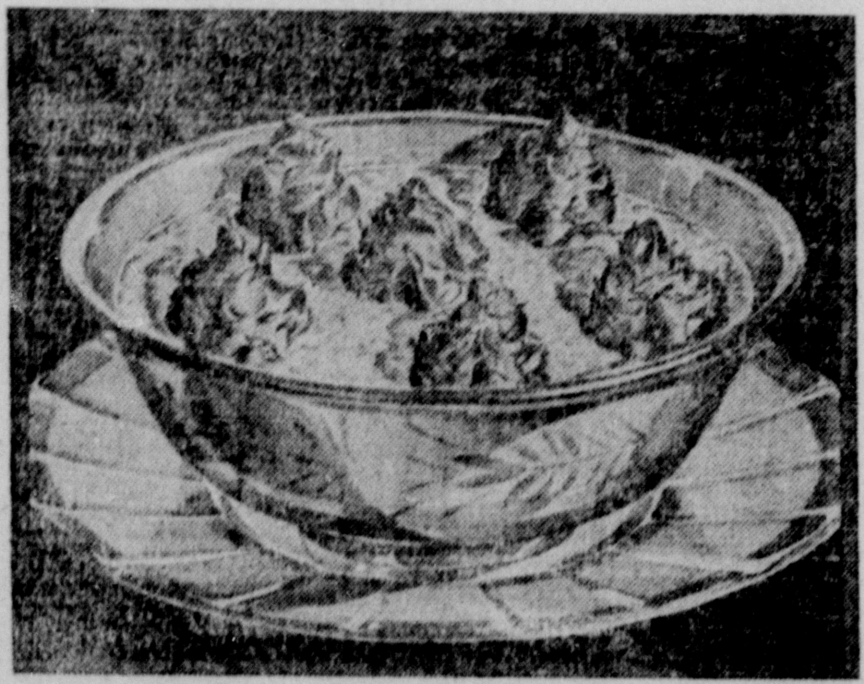
The growth of the airplane industry promises to surpass even the marvelous development of the automobile. The only thing that will hold back the development of the airplane is finance.

SENIOR CLASS MEMBERS GUESTS VALENTINE PARTY

Members of the Senior Class of Yoe High school were guests at a Valentine party last Friday evening tendered them by their president, Leland Green, Jr., at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Green. The house was beautifully decorated with red hearts and with red carnations.

Bridge, 42, and dancing were diversions. The guests were served chicken salad sandwiches, fruit cake, hot chocolate and marshmallows decorated with hearts.

Winter Dried Fruits and Tapioca Aid Housewives in Menu Making



MAKING a resolution to budget the household allowance more carefully and yet to give the family nourishing and tasty meals, wives and mothers are on the look out for new recipes. For high days and holidays come and go but the task of providing three meals daily goes on all year.

The winter dried fruits—figs, raisins, apricots, dates and prunes—can be made into a wealth of delicious desserts at small cost. They are Nature's own sweets packed with sugar for winter energy and should appear on the table often during the cold weather.

Here is a colorful Apricot Tapioca that tactful wives will serve after the Monday pot-luck meal. Even Junior will be willing to eat his carrots if he is rewarded by such a dessert.

APRICOT TAPIOCA

¾ pound dried apricots
3 cups water
½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons quick cooking Tapioca
⅛ teaspoon salt

Wash apricots. Soak in 3 cups water 1 hour and cook until tender. Drain. To juice, add enough water to make 2 cups liquid. Add Tapioca and salt, and cook in double boiler 15 minutes, or until tapioca is clear, stirring frequently. Add sugar. Cool. Force apricots through sieve. Fold pulp (about 1 cup) into tapioca mixture. Chill and serve with whipped cream. Serves 6.

FROM NORWAY

The lowly boarding house prune has come into its own, magically transformed by modern cook-craft into a variety of delicious desserts. Here is one of them. And it is so simple to make that you can put it on your list of last minute desserts for busy days.

NORWEGIAN PRUNE TAPIOCA

4 tablespoons quick cooking Tapioca
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon, or 1-inch stick cinnamon
2 cups unsweetened prune juice, or juice and water
4 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup cooked prunes, seeded and finely cut

Add Tapioca, salt, and cinnamon to prune juice, and cook in double boiler 15 minutes, or until tapioca is clear, stirring frequently. Remove cinnamon (if stick is used), add sugar, lemon juice, and prunes. Chill. Serve with cream. Serves 6.

MRS. W. H. HENLEY HOSTESS TO FRIENDS WEDNESDAY

Members of the As You Like It Club enjoyed games and pleasant conversation at the home of Mrs. W. H. Henley for awhile at their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon, and then they were invited into the dining room where they were served a delicious repast. The dining table was centered with pink carnations and place cards were in Valentine design.

Mrs. Henley served creamed chicken in patties, vegetable salad, fruit cake and coffee.

Colonial Homes Surely Constructed to Endure

Those who are familiar with the construction methods employed by New England coast house builders of the Colonial period are generally impressed by the foundation work. Today, after a century or more, one may find these foundations unshaken. Labor was cheap in earlier times; construction material close at hand. Perhaps such massive bases for the superstructure were needlessly extravagant, yet one must admire the honest work that has stood the tests of time.

At East Winthrop, Maine, there stands a massive Colonial dwelling, 107 years old, that has one of these typical foundations. It is formed of enormous granite slabs which are laid up three feet thick. It is tradition among descendants of the original owners that three yokes of oxen were required to haul some of these great stones to the spot.

Quite frequently one will come across one of these Colonial houses with stone chimney bases 20 feet square while on the ground floor there will be tunnels through the heart of the chimney, forming unique hallways from one part of the main floor to another. Foundations and chimneys were built to withstand the onslaughts of floods, earthquakes and centuries. Fire occasionally razes cleanly one of these Colonial dwellings, yet the hand of man is always necessary to tear apart that honest masonry.

Moose Given Points of Superiority Over Horse

The Swedish moose is a dangerous competitor to the horse, says a Stockholm Associated Press dispatch.

Some years ago a harnessed moose easily took first place in a horse race, but was refused first prize because the judges decided it was out of the competition.

Moose were used as saddle and draft horses several centuries ago until prohibited by a royal decree, as it was feared a criminal astride a moose could easily outdistance his horse-powered pursuers.

A Swedish country gentleman caught a moose bull as a calf and broke him for mail service. The animal proved more practical than a horse, since no gates had to be opened, the moose clearing them all without difficulty.

At one time a military expert proposed a moose cavalry regiment, asserting that a moose squadron would put fright into a whole horse regiment. The scheme was left untried.

Paper Has Kept Growth

In the United States the history of paper is the history of the country. When the Revolutionary war broke out there was hardly enough paper available to wad the guns of the soldiers or upon which to write the orders of their officers. There was virtually no paper. By 1810, however, the use had increased to about one pound per capita per year. It had grown to over eight pounds in 1850. The Civil war greatly accelerated consumption, which reached 25 pounds in 1869. In 1899 it was 57 pounds; in 1923, 150 pounds, and today the people of the nation annually consume more than their own weight in paper.

Bell-Ringing Clocks

Perhaps the earliest tower clock with bell-ringing mechanism was one made by Peter Lightfoot, a monk of Glastonbury, England, about 1325, writes Satis N. Coleman in his book "Bells." Connected with this clock were automatic figures which struck a bell on the hours. These performing figures pleased the public, and many of the town clocks of Europe were provided with such figures to ring the bells on the hours. They were used for proclaiming time long before the introduction of clock dials.—Detroit News.

Unbreakable Glass

The bureau of standards says that in general non-shatterable glass is of three distinct types. One of these is unusually thick; another consists of two or more layers of glass cemented together with an organic binder, such as celluloid, and the third is prepared by special heat treatment. The first of these can be identified by its relatively great thickness, the second by examining the edge of the glass for laminated structure, and the third by its irregular figures, seen when the glass is examined in polarized light.

Cameron, Texas

To The People of Cameron:

It is with deep appreciation that I thus express my sincere thanks for the vote given me on last Tuesday in the City Democratic Primary Election.

This vote is appreciated and to me it is an expression of confidence in my record as Tax Assessor and Collector and it is my ambition always to give the very best of service in appreciation for the action of the people in reelecting me to this office.

To the voters and the people of the City I extend my sincere thanks. The people of Cameron have been very generous to me in entrusting this office to me and it is with pride that I look back over my record of service and its approval by the people through their ballots cast for me.

I pledge anew my services to the people in this office and I hope to merit your continued confidence by rendering a service commensurate with the trust placed in me by the people of Cameron.

Sincerely,

Dan Tyson

Tax Assessor and Collector.

INSECTS AND DISEASES AFFECTING PEACHES

R. R. REPPERT, Entomologist
Plum Curculio

The plum curculio is the most destructive insect with which the grower of stone fruits has to contend. It attacks plums, prunes, cherries, peaches, nectarines and apricots, and is also a serious enemy of apples. The larva is the footless grub ordinarily found in peaches and plums, ruining them for the table, and causing plums especially, to fall prematurely.

The adult is one of our snout beetles, being brownish in color and about one-fourth inch in length. It is thus often mistaken for the boll weevil by many persons, who also contend that the grub found in peaches or plums is the young of the bnll weevil. Close observation of the adult beetle however, will disclose the presence of 4 black ridged tubercles o nthe wing-covers, which the boll weevil does not possess.

The beetles pass the winter under grass and leaves, on the ground in or near orchards. The trash collected about stone walls or under hedges furnishes ideal winter protection, and the greatest injury may be expected to result to fruits near such retreats. The beetles emerge from their protection just before fruit trees bloom in early spring, feeding to some extent on the buds and unfolding leaves and blossoms, but after the fruit is set confining their feeding mostly to this.

In feeding they make use of the jaws, situated at the extremity of their snout, to tear the tissue and chw it. The females utilize these jaws also to puncture the fruit for egg laying, the egg being crowded into the hole thus made. Wihle the feeding puncture is an ordinary small round hole, the egg puncture may be distinguished as a semi-circular cut, with the egg placed in the tissue at about what would be the center of the extended circle. The purpose of this semi-circular cut seems to be to retard the growth of the fruit tissue, which would otherwise crush the egg before it hatched. Egg or feeding punctures in plums or peaches cause a sap exudate, and are usually the cause of the small drops of gum on the fruit. Even though a grub fails to develop in a fruit, the puncture usually results in gnarled peaches or plums.

Eggs are laid as soon as the fruit is formed, and hatch in three to five days. The grub completes its development next to the seed within the fruit in about two weeks, when it leaves the fruit and falls to the ground, and continues there in its resting stage for three or four weeks before it transforms again to the beetle stage. This brood does not ordinarily lay eggs, but may continue to damage the fruit by feeding, finally seeking the location already mentioned as winter quarters.

The first step in controlling this insect consists in correcting conditions that favor successful overwintering. Clean culture to keep down grass and weeds in and about the orchard should be practiced, walls and stone piles in the vicinity of the orchard should be removed, and trash along hedges and fences destroyed. The beetles prefer deep shade for egg laying, and trees pruned so as to admit a maximum of sunlight will suffer least from the insect. Raking the fallen fruits, especially the very small early drop, into the hot sunshine, or otherwise destroying them, will prevent the development of the grubs within. Frquent shallow cultivation will destroy the insect after it has passed into its resting stage in the soil in early summer.

While the operations suggested in the foregoing paragraph will result profitably from this standpoint, as well as being good orchard practice otherwise, the favorite method of fighting the curculio has come to be by the use of an arsenical spray. One pound of dry lead arsenate is used in fifty gallons of water, to which is added to to four pounds of hydrated lime to prevent spray injury to the foliage. This should be applied thoroughly with a sprayer capable of generating a pressure of 100 pounds or more. The first application is made about ten days after the petals have fallen, or at the time the calcyces, or shucks are shedding. A second application should be made two weeks after the first.

Where disease is to be controlled also, especially in the case of brown rot on peaches, the spread of which is favored by the late feeding punctures of the curculio, the spray mentioned should be combined with the proper fungicide, to be outlined in other circulars treating of the respective diseases of this crop.

L. E. Lawrence Now District Attorney In West Texas

In the lobby of the Blazilmar hotel today was found a quiet subdued looking man who calmly watched the excitement around him, which again proves that you can't always tell a man just by his looks. This man was no other than the fighting District Attorney L. E. Lawrence of that Wild section of the state known as Crockett and Sutton counties. It is a matter of record that since Judge Lawrence took this office those counties have had a real cleaning up of some hard cases and out of 271 trials since May of last year this District has secured 270 convictions.

Judge Lawrence is a cousin of Officer Bill McConnell of this city and a brother of Dr. E. L. Lawrence of Thorndale.

Mr. Lawrence is here looking after some land holdings he and his brother have in the vicinity of the new oil well.—Taylor Press.

Mr. Lawrence was formerly a resident of Cameron and shortly before leaving the city established an abstract business here. His friends will be glad to note he has succeeded in public office in these West Texas counties.

Teacher To Executive In Only Two Years

A few years ago he was a country school teacher, drawing a meager salary six or eight months out of the year, and discouraged with the outlook for the future.

Two years later he was Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of Arkansas, with an all-the-year-'round income many times that which he had drawn as a teacher 'I'm just beginning my career,' he said.

One decision, a little determination and the encouragement of a far-sighted little wife made this wonderful change in the course of his life. His story may prove helpful to hundreds of others.

Raised on a farm, and having attended country school until he had completed a two-year high school course, Lonzo A. Ross was twenty-one years of age before he 'struck out for himself' as a country school teacher. For five years he followed this profession. Then, having taken unto himself a wife, he began to think a bit more about the future. He had made no progress as a teacher, although he liked the work. Encouraged by his wife, he decided to fit himself for a business position and enrolled at Tyler Commercial College at Tyler, Texas.

His first position upon graduation paid him a yearly salary more than three times that which he had drawn as a teacher. The following year he was appointed Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue—a position he could never have held but for his thorough T. C. C. training.

'At any cost, get a T. C. C. graduate,' is his advice t oemployers. And to employers. And to teachers and other ambitious young people; 'Get a T. C. C. training.'

In the big illustrated book, 'Achieving Success in Business' are printed scores of stories of men and women who have reached success as a result of training. The book is free. No obligation. Won't you let us send you a copy? Just clip the coupon below and mail it today.

After reading the poem by Longfellow, we wrote the life of Paul Revere.

Paul Revere

Paul Revere, a great patriot, soldier and politician, was born in Boston, December 21, 1734. Paul learned to be a goldsmith and silversmith from his father. In those days usually the son followed the trade of his father.

Paul did many great things in his later life. Most people think only of Paul Revere's midnight ride as the only important thing he did. This ride was important but he did other important things. Paul Revere was an engraver and printer as well as many other things, and he was the first man to engrave and print paper money in the United States. The government picked him to do this job because they knew he would do a very good job of it. In 1775 the government sent him to a powder factory to study the making of powder. The government sent him because they knew he had the ability to learn about the powder making. Paul was a Lieutenant Colonel in the American army. He also owned shares in at least one privateer, the 'Speedwell.' Paul was a bell-caster, one of the earliest and he made a copper rolling mill. The latter was very important, because the copper was used on the bottom of boats to keep the worms from eating the boat bottom. Up until this time the copper had to be shipped from England. Also in his later life he was chairman of Board of Health of Boston in 1801. Paul Revere died May 10, 1818, at the age of eighty-three.

Paul Revere is remembered for the following things: patriot, genius, inventor, hero, organizer and artist.

William Slaughter.

After reading the story 'A Message to Garcia,' we wrote the story in our own words or made an original story. We also told the lesson we get from this story.

A Message To Garcia

When the United States declared war with Spain no one knew where Garcia, the leader of Cuban forces was. McKinley, then president of U. S., wanted to find him. Someone told him that if anyone could find him, it would be an American Lieutenant, Rowan, that could do it. Rowan was sent for and told to carry the message. Did Rowan ask, 'Where is he?' He did not. The letter was placed in a leather pouch and placed over his heart.

Four days later he landed on the Cuban coast. Out into the jungles he went. After two weeks of hard search he found Garcia and delivered the message. How many men do you know of that can carry 'A Message to Garcia?'

Howard Terry.

A Message To Garcia

A business man had two good honest men working for him. One day he tried to find out which was the most capable. John Wilkerson, a social man with a considerable amount of money, was one of his clerks. Joe Young, a poor man with little money and eight children, a wife and mother to feed and clothe, was the other clerk.

Mr. Brown called for Mr. Wilkerson. 'Mr. Wilkerson,' said Mr. Brown 'will you carry this message to Garcia?'

'Who is he,' where does he live, why should I go?' asked Mr. Wilkerson.

'That's enough,' said Mr. Brown, and he sent for Mr. Young.

'Mr. Young, I want you to carry this message to Garcia.'

'Yes sir,' said Mr. Young.

'That's all I ask of you Mr. Young. I have found that you are the most capable and most dependable man. You can carry a message to Garcia.'

Frank M. Newton.

A Message To Garcia

When somebody asks you to go an errand and is not very definite (for the simple reason that they don't know themselves) the proper thing to do is to go and try, not to ask a number of silly questions. When Lieutenant Rowan was given the message to General Garcia by President McKinley he went straight to Cuba and didn't ask where General Garcia was to be found. He was successful in his quest. This is no sign that if we do not ask questions we will be successful.

Roy Baskin.

A Message To Garcia

The person, who can do something well when he is alone as when the 'boss' is around, is a worthy person. He can 'carry a message to Garcia.' The one who is willing to do his level best without asking silly questions is capable of delivering a message to Garcia.

C. W. Gjedde.

Original paragraphs were written after having read the story 'Battle of the Ants.'

Battle of the Ants

Johnnie, who was sent out to gather chips, saw such a commotion. Black ants were fighting two red ants. On an eminent chip of wood the fight raged. Johnnie picked up the chip and carried it into the house. He looked at the ants carefully. One of the red ants fell off and had to be taken to the 'Hotel des Invalides.' A wooden leg was made for him.

Carroll Green.

Battle of the Ants

The battle raged on with all the fury of a tornado. It swayed from one side to the other, sometimes the red ants in sight of victory and some times the black ones. Although the red aunts greatly outnumbered their black adversaries the black ants were twice as large and it seemed as they would win. There were groups of red ants here and there that seemed to be playing or singing some encouraging song to their fighting kinsmen. But as lon as I watched the battle I saw no black ants playing or singing. I had watched the battle for nearly thirty minutes and the black ants were getting the best of the fight, when suddenly from nowhere a regiment of red ants appeared into the arena and turned the tide. Although the black ants fought with renewed vigor the more numerous red ants won the battle. There were about the same number of slain and wounded on each side and but few black ants lived to tell the tale.

Ernest Sharpe.

Battle of the Ants

After struggling with, and finally defeating my two red opponents I was very bad off. I could not talk because my feelers were gone and I could not walk because all my feet were gone, excepting one.

I cut off the heads of my two victims though, and started to crawl to the hill. It took me many verstas of my life (a versta is the ant year) before I got to the burrow. When at last I got there I went to our hospit for the warriors. After being cared for by many special doctors and nurses, and using many secret and helpful medicines, my feelers and legs grew back and I took my place in the ranks of my queen's legions.

Giles Avriett.

The Wise Spider

A spider emits a sticky fluid on the wall then weaves a thread across, called the warp. The woof threads are up and down.

The mother spider hatches the eggs and then rolls them up in her web. These baby spiders grow fast. As they get older, their legs grow longer. When they get very old they die from hunger because their legs are too stiff for them to move quickly.

Joe Walker.

The Wise Spider

A spider makes its web by emitting a small drop of liquid on the wall. Then he starts flying along the wall and leaves the little thread behind him. This makes a web. If the little spider thinks it will not last long or will tear easily he will go over it again. To form the warp he flies across the wall and to make the woof he flies down.

The spider gets his food by capturing a fly or any insect that he can find. After a long time his legs grow weak and he dies. The female spiders are lots larger than the male. When she gets ready to lay, she makes a webb and lays her eggs on it. Then it is rolled up. If she thinks her eggs will be bothered she puts them in her forceps and carries them off.

One day I saw a spider that was making its webb. A fly came along and tore all of the webb up. After that the spider tried to kill the fly.

with a Case Riding Plow

THE Case Riding Plow is popular for several good reasons—it does clean, fast plowing; it handles easily; it keeps plowing costs down.

This plow heads right in and holds its uniform depth. It turns the furrow slice neatly, pulverizing it finely at the same time. All trash is covered and thoroughly mixed—assuring quick decomposition into valuable plant food.

It's mighty easy to handle. The powerful foot lift, spring assisted, lowers or raises the bottoms without using the hands. Easy-working hand levers, for depth and leveling, are at driver's right—not in the way, yet easy to reach.

And it's built to last! Rigid one-piece frame, freedom from stresses and strains, unusually light draft.

Come in soon and look over this and other Case Plows. Many types; all sizes. We're headquarters for a complete line of quality implements—try our service.

Miss Eunice Tyson And Marvin Golden Married In Dallas

Miss Eunice Tyson and Mr. Marvin Golden were married in Dallas Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Miss Tyson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Tyson.

Mr. Golden was employed by the Texas Power and Light Company in Cameron for several months, and is now engaged in the insurance business in Dallas, where he has made his permanent home for several years.

Announcement of the marriage will be received here with interest by their many friends in Cameron. Miss Tyson was reared in Cameron and a popular and accomplished student of Yoe High school. Mr. Golden made many friends while in Cameron and the people here extend their congratulations and wish for them a happy, prosperous wedded life.

JOE CHUDEJ

Funeral services for Joe Chudej, 62 years, who died at his home in the Marek community Saturday evening at about ten o'clock, were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Corinth, with Rev. Joe Barton of Granger the officiating minister. Interment was in the Corinth Cemetery, Green Brothers in charge.

Pall bearers were as follows: Chas. Hrochovy, Joe Ruzicka, Joe Zet, Lud Zaivcek, Rudolph Stecher and Cyril Plachy.

Mr. Chudej is survived by his wife, four sons and two daughters.

The Parent-Teacher Association will meet in regular monthly session on Thursday afternoon, February 13, at 3:30 o'clock at the Yoe High School Library. Miss Porter, principal of the Ada Henderson School, will be the speaker for the afternoon, taking for her subject, 'Home Responsibility for Sex Education.'

In order to stimulate attendance awards are being given each month to the room having the greatest number of mothers present. Miss Grace Mangum's room in the Ada Henderson School won last month and the prize was a pot plant. The contest is being continued for the meeting next Thursday.

GAUSE

Every sort of day together,
Makes a year of every weather,
Rainy days and clear days and days to go to school,
Winter days and summer days and days of spring and fall
To make the calendar, my dear, we have to take them all;
Here's a pretty day for trying, here's a rainy day for working,
But I can not find a single day in all the year for shirking.

It continues to be rainy and the roads are almost impassable. In spite of much rain and the bad roads many went to Cameron during the past week to pay their taxes.

Mrs. Pearl Anthony of Washington, D. C. is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. J. Ealand. Mr. Ealand is recovering nicely from his operation but because of his weak condition it will be several days before he will be able to return home.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Roberts of Rockdale were the guests in the home of their sister, Mrs. F. J. Cook.

J. M. Kilpatrick is visiting in the home of his uncle, G. W. Kilpatrick, Sr.

Miss Lucinda Turner left Sunday for San Marcos where she will enter school. Many of her friends attended her to the train, told her good-bye and wished her the best of luck in her school work.

Miss Jamison of Jones Prairie was elected by the board of trustees Thursday night to fill the place of Miss Hilliard, who resigned from the Gause school last week.

Mrs. Dr. Dubose was visited by her brother and nephew of Teague last week.

Tom Self, who is attending school at Hearne visited his parents Sunday.

Sorrow was brought into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wall Saturday afternoon when their little adopted daughter, Marie, age two, was taken by death. The death was due to pneumonia. The father had been away working on highway 43 near Jacksonville but was called to the bedside of the sick child Wednesday.

Jimmie Stewart of Tracy is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Mattie Ditto.

Mrs. A. Varner has been ill but her condition was reported to be improving today.

L. O. Bowling left Saturday night for Goosecreek to seek work.

Uncle Edd Lawson, a negro well known among the whites and colored of Gause and who had lived in the Six Mile community many years was buried at Six Mile Sunday. Uncle Edd was getting rather old and had been in ill health quite a while.

METHODIST BOARD STEWARDS ARE ENTERTAINED HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Green and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Rylander entertained the board of stewards of the Methodist church Tuesday evening at the Green home. A business meeting was first held and after this Rev. and Mrs. Lehmberg were honored with a social hour. It was Mrs. Lehmberg's birthday and she was remembered with a pot plant. Various contests furnished amusement.

The guests were served Osgoode pie and whipped cream. There were 25 present.

Valentine Parties Feature Society

The approaching St. Valentine's Day is proving inspiration for a number of parties and club meetings this week. Miss Hilda Burke used the heart motif on Monday evening, when she entertained members of the Entre Nous Club at her home. Valentine candy was served during the games, and at the conclusion the hostess offered cherry whip, more suggestive of February 22, heart-shaped cokies and fruit punch. Miss Goldye Burke made high score and Miss Iva Wilson was low, and Misses Iva and Ima Wilson were lucky winners of table cuts, which were candy jars filled with bath salts. Miss Frances Hause has been elected a member of the club, filling the vacancy made when Miss Jennie Shirley moved to Waco.

Another Valentine party was on Tuesday afternoon, when Miss Bess DuBois was hostess to the Tuesday Bridge Club. Score pads and tallies were in cupid and heart design and heart-shaped candies were served during the games. The hostess served a salad course and hot fruit punch on trays that were centered with novelty valentines for the guests. Miss Mary Lake Henderson was announced as winner of high score and Mrs. Dan Tyson was low. Guests other than club members were Mesdames James Childers, Graham Gillis, Floris Criswell and Miss Velda Walker.

Mrs. Joe Denson is entertaining members of the 42 Club this afternoon and she is also using Valentine appointments.

MRS. WATT HAWKINS

The body of Mrs. Watt Hawkins who died in Austin Tuesday night, arrived in Cameron Wednesday over the Santa Fe and was taken in charge by Coleman and Eplen, who had charge of funeral arrangements.

Services were held this afternoon at three o'clock at the Walker's Creek church. Interment was in the Walker's Creek cemetery.
